RESPECTS PAID TO GERMAN SOLDIER

Report by Tom Mason

A FALLEN German soldier, the Bombardier on the last surviving Dornier 17, was honoured by members of RAF Cosford.

As the aircraft emerged from the English Channel, a wreath was laid at the grave of Corporal Heinz Huhn, who is buried at Cannock Chase's German Cemetery.

Alex Medhurst, general manager at RAF Cosford Museums, placed the poppy wreath on the grave of 21-year-old Bombardier of the Dornier 17. The Royal Air Force Museum successfully raised the plane from Goodwin Sands on Tuesday.

Peter Dye Director General of the Royal Air Force Museum said: "Today as the Royal Air Force Museum takes stock of its success in raising the Dornier 17 from Goodwin Sands, it is appropriate to remember those who gave their lives during the summer of 1940.

"In honouring a fallen German airman, we commemorate all those young men, from across the world, who died in the service of their country.

"The freedom defended by Britain at great cost in 1940 was built on tolerance, compassion and understanding. In remembering the sacrifice made by the airmen of both sides, we demonstrate our enduring belief in a future based on reconciliation, cooperation and shared values."

Conflict

Of the other three in the Dornier 17, wounded Pilot Flt Sgt Willi Effmert, and Bomb Aimer Hermann Ritzel survived and saw out the conflict in Prisoner of War Camps in Canada and Wireless Operator Sgt Helmut Reinhardt died of his injuries and is buried in Ysselsteyn, Holland.

The operation to raise the aircraft had been delayed for weeks due to bad weather but on Monday evening operations began to lift the plane that had been shot down on August 26 1940 by Wolverhampton-built Boulton Paul Defiant of No.264 Squadron.

The aircraft known as Hitler's 'flying pencil' due to its narrow fuselage, had lain on the sands of the Kentish coast for more than 70 years. It was removed following a painstaking £500,000 recovery mission. It has been discovered five years ago by an amateur diver, Bob Peacock.

IT will now be transported to Cosford Air Museum where it will be stored in a special hydration tunnel as specialists begin the long task of cleaning away years of salt and chemicals that could damage the plane.

Widow left sickened as roses taken

THIEVES are thought to have stolen flowers from the grave of a late former Cannock Councillor. Edwin Hodges' widow described the culprits as 'sick'.

Dorothy Hodges discovered the roses missing from her husband's headstone in St James Churchyard when she visited her mother Lily's grave for her birthday.

She said: "It was such a shock and so upsetting. I couldn't understand it.

"We had a look to see if they had been put on somebody else's grave but they hadn't.

"It seemed to be the only grave to have had flowers removed, so I don't know why my husband was targeted. Whoever did this is just sick."

Mr Hodges, known as Ted, died in November, aged 87, after battling an illness for more than two decades.

He had served on the district council for eight years and on Norton Canes parish council for more than two decades

Mrs Hodges, of Stag Crescent, Norton Canes, said: "He did a lot for the village and even now people say they are very sorry to hear about his death.

"He was very well liked in the village, but obviously not by someone."

A member of staff at the church, who did not want to be named, said there had been no reported thefts from the graveyard.

20 arrests are made in drugs initiative

POLICE have seized illegal drugs with a street value of more than £70,000 during raids in Cannock, Hednesford and Heath Hayes since March.

Officers have arrested 20 men from the Cannock Chase area on suspicion of drug offences during the same period. All remain on bail pending further inquiries.

A total of 15 addresses have been targeted by Operation Nemesis, the force's ongoing crackdown on drug dealers.

Drugs including cocaine and cannabis have been recovered, along with cash and assets suspected to be connected to criminal activity, valued at a further £70,000.

Plants

On June 1, officers seized cannabis plants worth an estimated £15,000 and arrested a 42-year-old man at an address in Saturn Road, Cannock.

They recovered cannabis plants worth approximately £10,000 and arrested a 23-year-old man when they executed a warrant at an address in Benion Road, Chadsmoor on May 21.

In March the force uncovered suspected cocaine worth an estimated £18,000 at an address in Herondale, Hednesford and arrested a 25-year-old man.

Jobs boost as shop to open

FAMILY-owned retailer, Discount UK Home Store, is creating 40 jobs with the opening of a branch in Hednesford.

It opens tomorrow (Friday) at Victoria Shopping Park as part of St Modwen's £50 million town centre regeneration

It will open at 10am and offers more than 8,000 products including groceries, cleaning products and toiletries.

There will be special giveaways and discounts for customers visiting the store.

Resign call over email threat to protesters

OPPOSITION Conservatives are calling for a member of Cannock Chase District Council's cabinet to resign over an email threatening to prosecute a campaign group for putting up posters.

The council has said the officer who sent the email to the Support Stafford Hospital group 'overstepped the mark' and was not authorised to do so.

But opposition leader Councillor Paul Snape says that as portfolio holder for economic development and planning, Councillor Gordon Alcott must accept responsibility.

Aidan Burley, Conservative MP for Cannock Chase, has echoed the call.

Barmy

Councillor Snape said: "Councillor Alcott is paid extra to take responsibility for his department. He has accepted the brief and this was on his watch.

"If he doesn't fall on his sword it is down to George Adamson to sack him."

Labour councillor Mr Alcott dismissed the calls as 'absolutely barmy' and 'silly politics'.

He added: "I'm not going to resign. I knew nothing at all about this incident."

Academy bid at primaries

TWO schools could become academies after being placed in special measures.

Heath Hayes and Norton Canes primary schools were both rated 'inadequate' by Ofsted. Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Schools Lord Nash says he wants to assess their future.

Parents packed a meeting about the issue at Wimblebury community Centre on Tuesday. Councillor Diane Todd said: "Feeling was very strong that they do not want this to happen."

Network group for licensed trade

A CANNOCK media company is lending a helping hand to a networking group designed especially for businesses working with the pub, hotel and restaurant industry.

CherryPick is set to launch a new branch in the Black Country to help raise spirits in the licensing trade and its inaugural meeting takes place at Suki's Bar and Indian Restaurant in Walsall Road, Darlaston, on Tuesday, June 18, from 5.30pm. It will be supported by Quality Solicitors Talbots, cleaning and catering product suppliers Swift Hygiene Ltd and Cannock-based The Marketing Room, who will also be providing on-going assistance to the group. Future meetings will be held on a monthly basis.

CherryPick director and licensing lawyer Peter Adkins, who organises CherryPick, said the idea behind the groups was to bring together quality suppliers and venues and help promote their services to each other.

For more details, visit www.cherrypickdirectory.com, speak to Peter Adkins on 07719 452090, Carol Garrington at The Marketing Room on 01543 468621 or Helen Nixon at Swift Hygiene on 01543 448844.

Police investigating up to 300 hospital deaths

UP to 300 deaths at scandal-hit Stafford Hospital are being investigated by police.

A review of deaths at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust by police and other officials has identified some 200-300 cases where neglect might have contributed to the outcome.

by Kirsten Rawlins

Following the publication of the Francis report into serious care failings at Stafford, police, medical regulators and prosecutors launched a review to establish whether any criminal offences were committed.

It comes as special administrators prepare to reveal their proposals for the futures of Stafford and Cannock Chase hospitals next Wednesday (June 19).

Assistant Chief Constable Nick Baker, who is chairing the review, said: "Between 2005 and 2009, there were 4,253 deaths at Stafford Hospital.

"However, we've identified between 200 and 300 cases where alleged neglect may have contributed to a patient's death and they are being thoroughly reviewed."

Appalling

The review includes representatives from Staffordshire Police, the Crown Prosecution Service, the coroner's office, the Health and Safety Executive, the Care Quality Commission, the General Medical Council and the Nursing and Midwifery Council.

Officials are aiming to identify the most serious cases at the hospital from 2005-2009, the period examined by the public inquiry led by Robert Francis.

The public inquiry report highlighted the 'appalling and unnecessary suffering of hundreds of people' at the trust.

Inquiries into the scandal revealed that many patients were left lying in their own urine and excrement for days, forced to drink water from vases or given the wrong medication.

Senior officials, including Martin Yeates, health trust chief executive at the time, could face action. Stafford Borough Council made a formal complaint against Mr Yeates to police earlier this year.

Officials from the multi-agency review are looking at reams of data including reports into care by the hospital, coroner reports, inquest records, complaints and civil claims.

Mr Baker said: "This is a complex, large-scale review which needs to be detailed, thorough and sensitive."

The HSE has already announced a formal investigation has been launched into the death of Gillian Astbury at Stafford in 2007. The 66-year-old of Hednesford died after slipping into a diabetic coma at the hospital in 2007 and an inquest into her death found that the failure to administer insulin amounted to a gross failure to provide basic care.

Asst Ch Con Baker said the multi-agency review launched into the deaths would focus on fresh evidence.

"We are examining whether or not there's any new information which has come to light which could lead to a previous criminal investigation being reopened or to an entirely new investigation," he said.

"If we get to this stage, our next step will be to establish if there's any realistic potential for criminal charges and prosecution."

Just desserts for contestants

Head chef Alastair Campbell and owner Alastair Payne promote the bake-off

JUDGES will follow in the footsteps of Mary Berry and Paul Hollywood when they sample the delights at a Cannock bar.

The proof of the pudding will be in the eating for the panel as they choose a winner at the Great Bank Bar Bake-Off. It takes place from 7.30pom on Wednesday, July 17.

Customers are invited to bring in their home-made creations for the dessert contest at the Wolverhampton Road bar.

Bank bar boss Alastair Payne said in the wake of popular cookery TV programmes, like The Great British Bake-Off, he was hoping for a good response. Fellow pub-goers will also try them out on the night.

It will be the second time the bar has staged a bake-off. Previous contests have included a chilli, curry and soup challenge.

Among the judges will be Michelle Capewell, who runs her own cake business from home in Cannock and the bar's own head chef Alastair Campbell. Call 01543 509251.

Delegates can enjoy business breakfast

BUSINESSES in the Cannock Chase area are invited to a networking breakfast next week.

The Rag at Rawnsley is staging the Chase BtoB Open Networking Event on Wednesday, June 19, from 7am.

The group, which meets fortnightly at The Rag, currently has more than 20 members and is keen to expand within the area. They are keen to welcome businesses from all sectors from new start-up businesses, SMEs, trades, public sector and corporates.

Chase BtoB is a one profession per group format, which guarantees exclusivity to each member.

At the Open Networking Event, delegates will have the chance to network throughout the morning, meeting like-minded business professionals and raise their profile within the group.

There are also two speakers booked and the promise of a full English breakfast.

The cost is £10. Booking is essential on 01543 899 695 or 07899 033 687 during office hours.

Readings on offer at fair

A SPIRITUAL psychic fair will be held in Cannock later this month.

There will be a range of gifts on offer including jewellery, crystals, tarot cards, incense and dream-catchers.

Clairvoyant tarot reader Yvonne Thatcher and psychic Lu Bowen will be offering card readings.

The event on Saturday, June 22 will run from 11am until 4pm at the Avon Business and Leisure Centre on Avon Road.

Plea goes out over fostering

A DECLINE in the number of foster carers has led a leading provider of care to begin a recruitment drive across Cannock.

Priory Fostering Services is launching a recruitment drive for foster carers in Cannock, Rugeley, and Burntwood to meet new government guidelines requiring that children are placed within 20 miles of their home.

More than 60,000 children in the UK live in foster families, but local authorities say they need at least 9,000 more foster families to meet young people's needs.

Foster carer Mandie Yilmaz, who has cared for more than 40 children, said: "Being a foster carer can be challenging but it is also incredibly rewarding.

"To provide a child with a stable family home, helping them to thrive, and giving them the best possible chance of achieving their full potential, is very satisfying."

Priory Fostering Services needs more than 1,000 new carers to provide stable foster care placements for people up to the age of 18, who may have emotional and behavioural difficulties alongside sibling group and parent and child placements. Call 01684 560 333.

A Done deal for HGV site

A BOOKMAKER who took a gamble on a once-struggling truck stop hopes to turn it into a national chain after transforming its fortunes.

Fred Done, who founded Betfred, bought the Hollies Truck Stop on the A5 out of receivership and its income has since risen from £10,000 to £100,000.

He plans to turn the business into a chain – and plans to open 50 businesses across the country in five years.

Mr Done originally planned to sell the Cannock site but has revived its fortunes with up to 137 lorries parking there overnight.

He believes the revival was down to improvements to the food, added security and new showers and a launderette.

Rider is injured

A MOTORCYCLIST was airlifted to hospital following a crash in Rugeley. The rider, in his 20s, suffered chest injuries following a collision with a car on Rugeley Road, Armitage at around 5.30pm on Tuesday.

Dilshad to relaunch with a charity event

AN award winning Indian restaurant in Cannock is hosting a grand reopening charity night to celebrate its new impressive look and to raise funds for Birmingham Children's Hospital.

The Dilshad restaurant, based at Cannock Road, Chadsmoor, is hosting the event on Monday June 17.

The restaurant reopened at the end of last year following a £50,000 refurbishment that has extended its seating from 48 to 100. It did not have an official reopening so owner Tony Uddin has decided to stage an event and raise money at the same time for charity.

The event will be compered by local comedian and musician David St John and starts at 7.30pm.

A raffle will be held with prizes so far being donated by the Dilshad, The Barns in Huntington, Bar Sport and the Bridgehouse in Penkridge. All the money raised will be going to Birmingham Children's Hospital.Mr Uddin said: "We wanted to celebrate the reopening of the new look restaurant and raise money for charity at the same time.

"We had been planning to extend the restaurant for quite some time due to customer demand but we waited for the right time to do it.

The Dilshad is the most established Indian restaurant in the Cannock area having been open since 1979 during which time it has won a clutch of trophies.

Family pays tribute after death of football-mad boy

THE parents of a Hednesford teenager who died suddenly on his 13th birthday have paid tribute to their 'lovely and much-loved' son.

Talented young footballer Thomas Smith died during a family trip to Wales during the half-term holiday. He had been suffering from meningitis.

They revealed he was affectionately known as 'Ronnie' to some friends, due to his Ronaldo-style skills on the football pitch.

His father Andrew, aged 38, who is originally from Walsall, said: "He was modest and unassuming.

"He was football-mad and then he fitted everything else in around it."

Thomas Smith

Fluent

Thomas was a keen Aston Villa fan and also enjoyed spending time with his friends at Rampz, an indoor skatepark in Cannock, and playing football at Wimbledbury Park.

He played football for his school as well as Chasetown Scholars under-13s and had also trained with Heath Hayes.

Thomas was fluent in Spanish, having lived in the Canary Islands from the age of five. He also had an interest in Spanish football and his favourite foreign team was Real Madrid.

The family returned to England when Thomas was 10 and he attended Heath Hayes Primary, before moving to Kingsmead Technology College, in Kings Avenue, Hednesford.

His mother Emma, aged 34, added: "He was car and scooter mad too. He was lovely and was much-loved by everybody."

Thomas's funeral will be held tomorrow (Friday) at St Peter's Church in Hednesford at 12.30pm, followed by a service at Stafford Crematorium.

The family has thanked everyone for support and asked that mourners wear bright colours or even their favourite football shirt.

Friends have paid their respects on Facebook, while a tree at Kingsmead has been decorated with poems, pictures and tributes.

A book of condolences has also been opened for staff and students to record their memories and messages. It will be passed on to Thomas' family.

Kingsmead headteacher Ian Bryant said: "He was a popular young man and a lovely student to teach.

"Tom's friends talk about his quiet ways and love of football, scooters and cars. Tom will be a sorely missed member of our school community."

A one-minute silence and a one minute applause has been held in his memory at school.

Guv'nors stylist Nicola Wilding and owner Debbie Conway, who are offering free cuts to Armed Forces personnel as a gesture of goodwill

Troops offered free cut

FREE hair cuts are being offered to members of the Armed Forces at a barber shop in Great Wyrley.

Guv'nors owner Debbie Conway came up with the idea following the death of drummer Lee Rigby in Woolwich.

Miss Conway decided to offer free hair cuts at the barber shop at the Quinton Shopping Precinct in Wardles Lane, as a gesture of goodwill to members of the Navy, Army and RAF.

She said: "As long as they produce their ID badges then we'll give them a free hair cut. They can come in any time between now and Christmas.

"We just wanted to show the community some solidarity and do something for the guys out there."

In the past, salon staff have helped to collect items for the Royal British Legion.

Customers took in gifts such as razors and chewing gum that were put inside parcels and sent abroad to British troops. Miss Conway added: "It's a worthwhile cause. Our troops are doing a really tough job.

"Hair cuts don't cost much but it's just a little something to say thank you," said Miss Conway, who opened the salon three years ago.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

AND off to that great English institution, the agricultural show, where townies gawp at what goes on in the countryside. I had great sympathy for the line of pedigree rams who waited nervously for a judge to reach between their hind legs and squeeze their testicles. They reacted exactly as you would expect by trying to leap out of the ring. You don't see that sort of thing at the Mr Universe competition.

THE one thing missing from our local show was that essential part of modern life, a punch-up. Whacking total strangers for no particular reason, preferably in front of terrified children, is very fashionable. In the last few days alone, a village dog show in Kent descended into screaming matches and fist fights with punches being thrown at teenage volunteers. Some folk objected to their pooches not getting rosettes while others were unhappy at the parking arrangements. There was a punch-up, too, at the gates of an infant school in Cornwall. A row which began between two mothers escalated to the point where police had to use pepper spray to arrest a man who was attacking a woman.

A READER tells me he was waiting at the lights when the car in front suddenly reversed into his car. The other driver was contrite and polite, exchanged details and said: "Don't report it to your insurance company; just send me the bill." Next thing he knew was that the other driver was claiming my reader had driven into him, causing him whiplash. To his fury, his insurer is proposing to settle what sounds like a deliberately staged incident on a 50:50 basis.

SLEAZE in Parliament is like dust under the sofa. You suspect it's there all the time but you're still shocked at the quantity. As cash-for-questions raises its ugly head again, isn't it time for constituency associations to get a grip? They are the local party committees who select prospective MPs to represent the interests of local people. They hope their new MP will rage in Westminster against the disgraceful housing conditions on the Slagthorpe Estate. Instead, he is suddenly asking suspiciously well-informed questions in the House about Moldavian gold mines, Moroccan fishing-tackle imports and subsidies to veal producers in Iceland. Alarm bells should ring. The constituency association should then summon its MP and ask what the hell he's playing at, who's paying him and how does he fancy being deselected?

BAD news for anyone hoping to boldly go where no man has gone before. Nasa has calculated that the long space flight to Mars could expose astronauts to high levels of radiation which could cause cancer. Imagine the compensation they might have to pay. Dan Dare defeated the Mekon and Dr Who saw off the Daleks but mankind's real-life exploration of space may come to a juddering halt in an adventure called Nasa and the No Win/No Fee Lawyers.

Sailing club founder dies at age 95

TRIBUTES have been paid to the founder member of South Staffordshire Sailing Club, who has died aged 95. Peter Waine helped launch the club in 1954 and in recent years was still actively involved.

Mr Waine served in the Territorial Army in India and Burma during the Second World War and retired a Lieutenant-Colonel. He met his wife Pam in Burma, and they married in 1950, enjoying more than 60 years of marriage. Together they helped run the Gailey-based sailing club. Mr Waine trained people how to sail and became regional trainer for the West Midlands and staying in the role until he was 80.

Mr Waine moved to Weymouth from his home in Pentland Gardens, Compton Road, a year ago to be with his wife in a nursing home. Daughter Anne, aged 53, who lives in Weymouth, said: "He touched so many people's lives and he knew people all over the place." When the former Tettenhall College pupil returned to the UK from Burma – where he ran a rice mill for 10 years – he built his own house in Elmsdale, opposite Wightwick Manor.

In 2002 he received the Royal Yachting Association (RYA) Distinguished Services to Yachting Award from Princess Anne.

Carnival goes on, vow bosses after pub shuts

A PUB which was the focal point of an annual village carnival has closed down and is on the market for £160,000.

The Star Inn in Walsall Road, Great Wyrley, has been put up for sale by Right Move.

Organisers of the popular village carnival have vowed the show will go on – but without any alcohol being available.

Thousands attend the event, which is on June 29 and is in its 37th year.

Treasurer of the carnival committee, 67-year-old Alan Kelsey, said: "I know people like to have a drink on carnival day, but as far as we're concerned we've still got the carnival.

The Star Inn, Great Wyrley

Donation

"Unfortunately, it does mean we don't have a licensed bar, but there's plenty of other things on offer for people to drink, so I don't think the closure will affect us that much.

"We used to get a donation from the Star Inn on the day, which we'll miss – they used to give us about £50 as it was their busiest day of the year along with bonfire night.

"It's a real shame it's had to close, although it is just a sign of the times.

"The carnival will go ahead regardless and we will still have a great time.

"We've got 50 stalls this year and a procession of around ten floats, plus catering. We've also got paintballing and bungee jumping, so there's something for all ages."

Mr Kelsey has been with the organising committee for the carnival since it began in 1976.

He said the event had enjoyed a resurgence in the last two decades.

Last year the carnival saw more than 8,000 people turn up as the event fell on the same day as the Olympic Torch relay.

The procession for this year's carnival will begin at midday from Hazel Lane, with the main event taking place on the Star Field.

Teachers have key to success

From left, teachers Tom Allsopp and Ian Stephenson whose musical The 3 of Us has been shortlisted in the "Search for a Twitter Composer" competition

TWO teachers are gearing up to perform their own sell-out musical. Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High School teacher Tom Allsopp and Ian Stephenson, of Pye Green Valley Primary, teamed up three years ago to write 'The 3 of Us'.

The modern-day musical tells the tale of 'the stresses and strains of a modern day relationship', according to co-producer Mr Stephenson, who lives in Rugeley. It will be performed at the Arena Theatre in Wolverhampton on July 20.

The pair have also entered the Search for a Twitter Composer competition, which has seen them perform before top West End producers, critics and composers. The musical will be performed at London's Soho Theatre on June 23.

Musicians tune up for concert at village fete

MUSICIANS from Cannock Performing Arts are in action at a Penkridge fete this weekend. A concert band that has previously performed in Cannock bandstand will be appearing at the Haling Dene Centre on Cannock Road, from 1-2pm on Saturday (June 15). It will be followed by a Big band performance playing swing/jazz-style tunes until 3pm.

Further concerts are in store as the whole group holds its summer concert at Cardinal Griffin RC High School in Cannock from 1-5pm on Saturday, July 6 and a week later performs on the lawn of St Luke's for the church's summer fete from 11am to 3pm.

Overspill car park approved at station

Thirty-four extra spaces are to be added at Rugeley Trent Valley station.

The car park will be built on land off Colton Road, Rugeley – opposite the station – but it will act as an overspill facility.

A farm shop selling local produce will also be built on the new car park next to The Yorkshireman Inn. The plans have been approved by Lichfield District Council.

Applicant Michael Pope said: "The car parking arrangements at the station are wholly inadequate and as a result on-street parking is leading to much inconvenience to local residents.

"The increased use of Trent Valley Station where there is insufficient parking has led to railway users parking in the street.

"Parking along Blithbury Road occurs daily and this prevents local residents who do not have off street parking from parking in the highway outside their properties."

Bat walk at wildlife HQ

NATURE lovers can join a moonlit walk to find out more about bats this weekend.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is teaming up with Staffordshire Bat Group to host the event at the Wolseley Centre near Rugeley on Saturday, at 9.15pm.

The Trust's Ron Rock will explain bat detectors to participants. Walkers should meet at the Gatehouse building at the entrance to the Wolseley Centre.

The cost for the walk is £2. Under 16s and Staffordshire Bat Group Members go free.

To book a place or for more information call the Trust on 01889 880100.

Grass set alight

FIREFIGHTERS tackled a spate of grass fires in Cannock believed to have been started by arsonists. Crews were called to Gravel Lane and Shoal Hill Common in Huntington on Saturday night, where gorse and stretches of heathland had been set alight.

Step out and join the Army

ARMY recruiters will march into Cannock later this month as part of a nationwide partnership with the JobCentre to train more troops.

The Step Up campaign is designed to bring 10,000 much needed recruits into the Army over the coming year.

Working in partnership with JobCentre Plus in Beecroft Road, employment clinics are being held on June 18 and 25 from 1.30pm.

They are aimed at dispelling the misconception that the Army is no longer hiring, despite its need for thousands of new soldiers.

Career

Brigadier Andrew Jackson, the Director of Recruiting and Training for the Army said: "We are always looking for talented, young people to take up the challenge of a career in the Army.

"No matter what your skills or background, the Army has something to offer and an Army job provides opportunities to learn much more beyond military skills.

"The Army is always recruiting to ensure we have enough quality junior ranks and young officers to sustain the organisation and keep it ready for the challenges of the future."

For more, visit www.army.mod.uk/join/StepUp or call 0845 600 8080.

Wildlife HQ coffee time

NATURE lovers can enjoy a cuppa while helping to raise funds for conservation projects.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is staging a coffee morning tomorrow (Friday) from 10am to noon at its Wolseley Centre headquarters near Rugeley.

There will be stalls selling cupcakes, plants and second hand books. Visitors can also browse around the centre's gift shop, which sells wildlife goodies, toys, books, homewares, clothing, and cards.

Admission is £1, which includes a hot or cold drink, and all proceeds go towards the trust's work.

Cathedral visit

THE Photographic section of the Friends of Cannock Chase visit Pugin's Cathedral in Shrewsbury next weekend. They will meet at the English Bridge in the town at 2.30pm on Saturday, June 22.

Secret's out as MP Burley pops question

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley and fiancee Jodie Jones

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has revealed he is to wed the chairman of his constituency's Conservative association – despite wanting to keep the engagement secret.

Mr Burley and his fiancee Jodie Jones, a district councillor for the Rawnsley ward, had wanted to keep the details private but fellow Tory MP Michael Fabricant, who represents Lichfield, posted a message on Twitter congratulating the happy couple.

Miss Jones has recently changed her Twitter profile picture to one of her engagement ring, containing a very Tory blue stone. The 25-year-old Oxford University graduate said that she 'couldn't be happier'.

Private

She works for Mr Burley at his constituency office in High Green Court in Cannock town centre.

The couple have said they want to keep details of their engagement private and have declined to reveal more.

Mr Burley, aged 34, who was elected in 2010, said: "We're both very excited. I proposed while we were on a trip abroad.

"I'm very grateful for people's kind wishes."

Mr Burley has previously been engaged before to the Sky TV presenter Helen Boyle. But that relationship ended in early 2012.

Last July it was revealed that Mr Burley and Miss Jones were dating.

Magistrates fine trio who slaughtered deer on Chase

THREE men armed with hunting dogs, knives and lamps drove onto Cannock Chase and killed a deer and a rabbit, a court was told.

The men, all dressed in camouflage gear, were caught by police as they drove away from the Chase in the early hours of the morning.

Magistrate describes actions as 'atrocious'

THE actions of the three men who hunted and killed a deer on Cannock Chase were described as 'atrocious' by a magistrate.

Chairman of the bench Mr Barry Joynes told Stafford magistrates court: "This is an entirely atrocious matter. No way should things like this be allowed to happen."

Certain animals including foxes, hares and deer are not allowed to be hunted. A person can be fined up to £5,000 for illegal hunting.

Wildlife campaigners have previously raised fears deer are being shot at on Cannock Chase and butchered for expensive venison meat.

A police presence has been stepped up around the beauty spot with late night patrols also taking place. Poacher Watch was set up in 2010 in response to increased attacks on deer.

The Rural Policing Liaison Group, set up by wildlife campaigner Fay Burton, has been working with police to crackdown on the problems.

Ms Burton called the fines a 'slap on the wrist'. She said: "Magistrates need to impose much steeper sentences."

James Morgan, James Harvey and Kyle Rodgers, all admitted hunting a rabbit with dogs and hunting a deer with dogs when they appeared at Stafford magistrates court last week. They were ordered to pay a total of £8,826 in costs and fines.

The men, all from Stoke-on-Trent, were snared during a late-night sting by Staffordshire Police and the RSPCA on November 24 last year, which had been launched to tackle poaching at the beauty spot.

Mr Roger Price, prosecutor for the RSPCA, said the deer had deep puncture wounds over its body and its throat, while its stomach had been crudely sliced.

Shock

The carcass was in the back of the van along with four hunting dogs, knives and lamps.

A post mortem was carried out which found the animal had died as a result of the wounds and the shock rather than from being hit by a car, as Harvey had claimed.

Morgan, aged 28, of Baker Crescent South; Harvey, 24, of Crestbrook Road and Rodgers, 22, of New House Road, were each also ordered to pay a victim's surcharge of £36 and court costs of £2,538.

A forfeiture order was made for the seizure of the lamps and knives, while the dogs have been signed over to the care of the RSPCA.

Andrew Bennett, of the Hairy Bush Bike Builders, is organising Bushwhacked after being inspired by a wish list of things to do put together by teenage cancer sufferer Stephen Sutton.

Bushwhacked will take place on August 9-10 on the fields at Coney Lodge Farm in Rugeley Road, Burntwood.

Mr Bennett is urging people to buy tickets for the two-day extravaganza. He said: "There will be some great family entertainment in the daytime and then live bands playing in the evening.

Display

"We just want to raise as much money as we can for such a good cause."

The fun starts again on the Saturday at around 10am when there will be a bird of prey display, creepy crawlies and bouncy castle.

Mr Bennett said he was expecting around 800 visitors over the two days. The 45-year-old added: "The more people we get, the more money we raise.

"A few family members have suffered from cancer and after hearing about Stephen it really inspired me."

"I just hope the event is a success. I wouldn't mind running this event every year."

A weekend pass for Bushwhacked is £18 and a day ticket is £12. All proceeds will go to the Teenage Cancer Trust.

NEWS in brief

Helicopter lands as player is hurt

THE Air Ambulance landed on playing fields in Great Wyrley to treat a young footballer with head and neck injuries.

The 14-year-old boy was playing for Wyrley Juniors in the club's annual tournament at the village high School on Saturday.

The helicopter was called at 1.48pm. Initial checks made by the on-board doctor found no immediate risk and he was transported by land ambulance to Walsall Manor Hospital and later discharged.

Wyrley Juniors chairman Keith Hardy said more than 1,500 players turned out for the two day tournament with 162 teams from across the Midlands taking part.

New salon venue for charity event

A NEWLY-opened Great Wyrley shop is the venue for a charity fundraiser next month.

Barney Bates, of Wombourne, will be having his legs and back waxed for cancer research at Bibbidi Bobbidi Boo, a salon in Wardles Lane, on Saturday, July 6.

Barney is a friend of housewife Leigh Till, aged 28, who has arranged the fundraiser. The pair have both lost loved ones to the disease and have agreed to raise as much as possible.

The event coincides with an open day at the salon. It takes place from 11am to 1pm.

IN MY VIEW WITH MARK ANDREWS

GOOD to see new Wolves coach Kenny Jackett will be giving the home-grown players a chance following his appointment to the Molineux hot seat.

"I always look for young and hungry players," said Jackett as his first press conference in charge. He is in good company. Last year, following a shaky start to the season, Aston Villa manager Paul Lambert explained his youth-first policy.

"I know that when you get really hungry players they can take you a long way, that's what we will try to do. If you don't have that hunger as a footballer, there's no point playing the game."

Not to be outdone, West Bromwich Albion's Steve Clarke explained the philosophy behind their continued status as the top dogs in the West Midlands.

"The players have the hunger," he said.

One can only assume that the burger vans outside their respective grounds must be doing a roaring trade. Meanwhile, in other news, Wolves, Albion and Villa are embroiled in a £15 million bidding war for the young-and-hungry Oliver Twist.

STUDENT Ben Cronin claims he was refused a job as a punt tout on Cambridge's famous riverboats because he wasn't good looking enough.

"I went to speak to the man running the boats, but when I asked about a job, he laughed, saying: 'Sorry, mate, you have to be good looking to do this job'," said the 20-year-old psychology student. Sounds like they didn't like his boat race.

SORRY, but I can't buy into all the conspiracy theories about the Bilderberg conference, where the political leaders of Europe and North America are supposed to have spent the weekend discussing their plans for world domination.

First of all, look at the guest list. Ken Clarke, Peter Mandelson. Ed Balls and George Osborne. Could you honestly see that lot successfully organising a social event in a brewery, yet alone some dark and sinister plot to take over the world?

Secondly, there's the venue. A 'luxury hotel in Watford'. No disrespect to Watford, but it all sounds a bit Alan Partridge, doesn't it?

Yes, we know David Icke thinks they are all descended from lizards from the constellation Draco, and we should always be grateful for his constructive and interesting contributions to the debate.

But the former Coventry City goalie's contribution aside, I don't think I will be losing too much sleep over the summit.

Carol and co-participants at the end of the drive

Carol is taken for a spin around the racetrack

Blind Carol lives life in the fast lane

A blind Burntwood woman had the experience of a lifetime when driven around a racetrack. WILL ACKERMANN reports

CAROL Trigg had never experienced anything like it – the wind rushing through her hair as she burned rubber, speeding around the track in a vintage sports car.

It would have been a day for anyone to remember, but for her it was the "thrill of a lifetime".

Carol is legally blind.

The mother-of-one from Burntwood, who was born with glaucoma, woke up one morning last year to find she had lost 90 per cent of her vision.

"Everything changed that day," she says. "To throw the quilt back one morning and think, 'Where has everything gone?' it was very scary."

Even before then, the 55-year-old had never driven. But when she was offered the chance to race three laps her pick of sports cars, she was anything but nervous.

Challenge

"I suppose I am, by nature, someone who will just have a go," she says.

"For four months I was in a very dark place. I was frightened to leave the house.

"But after a while I just thought, 'Let me get on with what I've got. I'm still better off than a lot of people.'

"This was just another challenge."

Before she knew it the morning had arrived. Brimming with excitement, Carol wolfed down her breakfast and headed to Seighford Airfield, near Stafford, together with her husband Terry, her 17-year-old daughter Katie and her guide dog Flora.

Despite her blurred vision – she compares it to looking into a steamy bathroom mirror – Carol was immediately taken by what she saw there.

"All the cars were lined up – and what a collection to feast your eyes on," she says. "I couldn't wait."

Carol Trigg waits for her experience with guide dog Flora

But the real fun began when she took her seat in a 1960s Jaguar E-Type, whose growling engine made the Austin seem a mere pussycat by comparison.

No sooner had she strapped herself in and Carol was off – the speedometer quickly clocking 75mph, 85mph… 95mph. With tears of laughter running down her cheeks and the wind howling through her hair, they raced through hairpins and chicanes at exhilarating speeds.

"When I got out of the car I could smell the hot rubber, so I can actually say that I burned rubber," she laughs.

"It was wonderful whizzing around when I couldn't see anything. It was such good fun." Soon it was time for Carol to put her own skills to the test in a slightly tamer model – an automatic Fiat 500.

She nestled into the driver's seat, her hands still shaking with adrenaline as she placed the key in the ignition, her feet tingling as she revved the accelerator pedal.

"You could feel the car starting to pick up and I was thinking, 'Oh my goodness, we're off!'" she says.

"I couldn't see anything other than the white line in the middle of the road.

"Going down the straights the instructor told me to put my foot down and I thought, 'Are you sure?'

"Then he'd say, 'We're going to come to a bend now. I'll tell you when to ease off.'

"I followed the instructions to the letter and the three laps just flew by," she says. "I could have driven on and on. I just felt so exhilarated.

"It was only when I got out of the car I realised what I'd done."

Business

The former Chase Terrace Comprehensive student was one of seven people offered the opportunity to take part through the Stafford team of the charity Action for Blind People.

When she is not on the racecourse, Carol is running her own business, the Birmingham Trichology Centre in Chasetown, as well as Burntwood In-Sight, a monthly social group for the visually impaired.

On top of that she volunteers with the St John Ambulance as an area training specialist, having previously been one of the charity's superintendents.

She has also appeared on television programmes including Embarrassing Bodies and The Oprah Winfrey Show.

But despite all her achievements and experiences, Carol describes her time on the track as one of the most thrilling of her life.

"It was a dream come true," she says. "It was lovely to have the freedom that everyone takes for granted."

Principal David Evans surveys the building work at Staffordshire University Academy, Marston Road, Hednesford

THE £9.7M rebuild of a once-struggling Hednesford school is taking shape.

New buildings at Staffordshire University Academy in Marston Road are beginning to take shape. The scheme is due to be finished in October.

The academy opened in September 2011, replacing Blake Valley Technology College which was adjudged to be failing students. The old buildings remain standing but will be knocked down from October. Principal David Evans said work was on schedule and the new structures looked 'fantastic'.

When work is finished, the main school building will be three-storeys high.

Students

A new sports hall and main hall which will accommodate 300 students are being built. The school will also benefit from a new outdoor BMX track and archery range. English and maths classrooms will be housed on the ground floor of the main school building, the upstairs will feature classrooms for subjects such as history and humanities. The top floor will have design technology and art rooms.

Mr Evans said: "Five or six years ago the school was on the verge of closure. It was failing our children and that wasn't good enough. The new school buildings already look fantastic.

"The children that come here have low literacy and numeracy levels so I want the focus when people first come into the school to be on maths and English."

Law says to pick up litter, not dump it

DOG dirt. Wow. So much fuss over these canine creature's doings.

I do not own a dog or any animal that by nature cannot clean up after itself. Anita B is quite right, though. Every owner should care for their surroundings and to add to that it's what by law is demanded you do.

Now can I add the human animal? It does have the wherewithal to pick up what it drops. So when I see tons of cigarette ends, plastic bags, bottles, food packaging and the like aren't they supposed by law to pick it up and bin it not deposit it on the lovely environment?

All this rubbish creates disease and hazards. So an we encourage all people alike to spare a thought for our beautiful environment and take their rubbish home and bin it? Or soon we will not have an area of natural beauty to enjoy.

Piece of history brought back to life

I READ with interest in the article in The Chronicle (May 30) about the sterling efforts of Richard Pursehouse and Lee Dent to restore the World War I Messines Model near the site of Brocton Military Camp, Cannock Chase.

Around 2002, having heard of this lost, but surely important, historical feature many years before I discussed it with a work colleague who shared my enthusiasm. She sent a descriptive letter to Channel 4's 'Time Team' suggesting that this may be an suitable subject for that TV series which conducted wide ranging archeological projects, sometimes of a more complex and probably more costly nature.

The editorial team replied with a polite rebuff. I feel perhaps the period was a little too late historically for their attentions, they did tend to concentrate on material from earlier times, and the series was discontinued not long after that. It is good to note that someone has finally felt driven to bring this piece of niche history back to life.

I trust that they receive suitable funding and other support not only for the initial recovery work but also for ongoing provision.

Council Tax is twice level of neighbours

IN HIS letter (May 30) responding to my group's rejection of his plans for the hospitality budget for Cannock Chase District Council, Councillor Adamson made comparisons with the costs incurred by the neighbouring Conservative-run districts of South Staffs and Lichfield.

However, when making those comparisons, he omitted to let readers know how much their residents are asked to pay in Council Tax. At Band D, the district portion of the Council Tax in Lichfield is £149, while in South Staffs it is £95. By contrast, the amount that Labour-run Cannock Chase demands is £201 – more than twice the level enjoyed by the fortunate residents living in the likes of Huntington and Great Wyrley.

When Councillor Adamson runs an authority as efficiently as those to which he wishes to be compared, I will stop criticising him for the money he is wasting.

Disgusted by penalty

I THINK it's disgusting that a driver got fined £90 and a one year's driving ban after that terrible accident she caused. The victim will never walk or work again, you have to be a special type of person to be a mental health nurse.

Had it been at crown court instead of magistrates court would it have been different?

You see and hear in the past of similar cases where the fines have been more severe.

Dismay at allocation of money

AS A Hednesford Town councillor, and loyal member of the Labour Party, I am disappointed at the recent decision taken by Cannock Chase Council to spend money obtained from the sale of building land in Hednesford, namely Pye Green Valley and land west of Pye Green Road as follows:

£1.5m to the stadium; £400,000 to economic and physical assets reserve; £50,000 for conservation area in Rugeley; £50,000 to Rugeley for environment to the town; £1m to Hednesford Park for a full-size artificial turf track – this in addition to the £2.7m lottery grant

Not a penny of the proceeds goes to Rawnsley or Brindley Heath. No mention of acquiring the Old West Cannock Sports Centre at the top of Bradbury Lane, where essential services exist. No mention of moving Hednesford Museum closer to the town or sited on a public transport route.

Make cars electric before it's too late

WE have all seen the change in our weathers, it's probably a natural behaviour moving round the world. But I myself think it's the humans of this world changing our weather.

We have around three billion cars pumping poison from the exhaust into the atmosphere every day, every week, month and year round the world, central heating pumping poison out into the atmosphere and millions of aeroplanes over the year pumping poison out.

You see it, you smell it, it's horrible. We have to wake up and make all cars around the world electric before it's too late. All this unusual weather around the world is very bad with unusual flooding, so wake up humans before we lose our bees, birds and creatures around the world.

Edward Street club is where it all happened

A FEW weeks ago I read in your newspaper about another club Edward Street in Chadsmoor closing down. This brings much sadness to me. This is the venue where it all happened. Tuesday nights, all the top groups, top groups, i.e. Jackpots, The Staffords, Tommy Burton Combo, Californians.

I used to go there with a lot of my workmates from the old Co-Op Dairy, Cannock, Nobby Clark, Mick Maidlyn Dave Collins, Malc Bradley, Bill Walklate, Les Holmes, Ron Davis, really cracking nights, no trouble, just brilliant rock & roll. I wonder where my old mates are now? The 60s were the best.

Bingo-mad model aims to be top of the show

Model Kayleigh McCabe who hopes to appear in a new BBC series

by Tom Mason

A BINGO-loving model from Cannock who has starred in Bollywood films and music videos hopes to secure her latest role in a new BBC Series.

Kayleigh McCabe, of Broomhill Close, has got through to the auditions as an extra for a new BBC series being filmed this year.

But for the aspiring 20-year-old this is just another step in a career that began with her modelling as a baby and has seen her go on to win Top Model UK for the last two years, appear in music videos for some of the UK's up and coming bands and even appear as a background extra in Tezz – a big budget Bollywood film set in Birmingham.

Kayleigh said: "I absolutely love acting, especially being on the set when the director shouts action and filming begins.

Charities

"My dream is to be a full time model and a part time extra. Who knows one day I might be a Hollywood actress."

Kayleigh, who regularly models for magazines, has also raised money for charities through her modelling work.

She said: "I love going to bingo in Hednesford every Thursday. Without the people there I could never have raised the money nor done what I have done."

She also admits that both modelling and working as an extra is not easy and requires spending long days in studios and is disappointing when you miss out on roles.

She said: "I got an offer to appear as an extra in Shameless but I missed out when the train I was meant to catch to Manchester was delayed. I was completely devastated."

MEMORY LANE

A picture from the 1960s of Harpers bus in Armitage Road, Rugeley

Ex-driver Paul Roberts with his book on Harpers Buses

Ex-driver tells tale of his life on the buses

By Marion Brennan

Paul Roberts has retained his love for Harpers buses and their distinctive green livery.

Once the biggest private bus operator in Staffordshire, the company put Heath Hayes on the map as bus enthusiasts from around the UK visited its headquarters.

Mr Roberts, aged 64, has now published a hardback history of Harpers featuring photographs he took during his years with the firm.

He was teaching science and geography at Springfield Secondary Boys School in Wolverhampton in 1970 when he applied to become a part-time bus conductor with Harpers to supplement his teaching salary. After a 10-minute interview, he was told to report for duty the next day to conduct on the Bishops Wood route. Three years later, he gave up teaching to go full-time.

"Some people like railways, I like buses," he said. "I left a good job but I loved buses so much, it wasn't a difficult decision. I never looked back after leaving teaching.

"It was like On The Buses at times. I remember one chap, who was a bit the worse for wear, losing his false teeth on a late-night bus to Aldridge.

"I loved being out on the road and that meant not only taking people to work and school but on days out and holidays because the company also operated tours to the coast."The former Dudley College student, who lived in Paget Road, Wolverhampton, and Ajax Close, Great Wyrley, stayed with Harpers until it was taken over by Midland Red in 1974 and continued under the new operator until his wife's job took them to Leicester in 1986.

The book focuses on the different buses and the routes covered, with a section devoted to the farewell trip and the early years under Midland Red, forerunner to Arriva.

Harpers won the right to operate buses into Birmingham in 1965. From Bishops Wood, the route went through Brewood, Gailey, Cannock, Heath Hayes, Chasewater, Brownhills and Aldridge. Some buses also went to Boney Hay and Lichfield.

The book is printed by Irwell Press who can be contacted on 01525 876888.

Administrators: Town will not be overlooked

ADMINISTRATORS have vowed not to overlook Cannock Hospital when drawing up draft recommendations for Mid Staffordshire NHS Trust.

Special administrator professor Hugo Mascie-Taylor made the promise in a letter to Chase MP Aidan Burley.

It came after the Conservative MP submitted his first batch of constituents' pledges calling on the administrators to keep Cannock Hospital 'fully utilised'.

The letter said the administrators would take the pledges into account while developing their draft recommendations, which are due to be announced next Wednesday, June 19.

Mr Burley said: "With all of the focus on the Stafford site, I am keen to ensure that Cannock Hospital is not overlooked in the review process.

Pledge

"That is why I launched this campaign to encourage support for the facility to ensure it will be fully utilised.

"I am pleased that the TSA recognise the strength of feeling locally here in Cannock Chase and have confirmed that they will take into account these pledges as they develop their report. This letter proves that the more people who sign the pledge, the bigger difference it will make.

Mr Burley urged supporters to sign the pledge in time for his next delivery early next week. It is available at www.aidaburleymp.org

Beginners' yoga launched

Billie Rowley has launched a new yoga classes for beginners

A MOTHER-of-two from Huntington who eased her chronic back pains through yoga has launched her own classes.

Billie Rowley, aged 47, led her first Faey Yoga beginners' class at the Rose Theatre, Rugeley, last month and has around 10 regular students.

As some of them are ready to proceed to an intermediate level, Ms Rowley is preparing to launch a new beginners' class in Lichfield.

The new weekly beginner classes will start on July 3 from 7-8pm at the Curborough Craft Centre on Watery Lane. Sessions cost £5 each.

Call Billie on 07968 993385.

Monument is a lasting tribute to pit heritage

A POIGNANT monument to Burntwood's mining heritage has been unveiled. The bronze statue depicting a miner and pit pony has been positioned near the site of a former colliery.

The statue has been revealed at Sankey's Corner. Last Saturday's official unveiling (June 8) followed more than a decade of planning and hard work.

The pony has been nicknamed Scamp after the scheme that brought it into being, the Sankey's Corner Arts Miner Project.

People of the town were consulted about what the sculpture should look like and where it should stand, and turned out in their hundreds for the unveiling.

Burntwood Town Council and Burntwood Chase Heritage were behind the memorial, sculpted by Peter Walker, who hails from the town and also created the statue of Erasmus Darwin in Lichfield's Beacon Park.

Plinth

Ron Bradbury, chairman of both the council and Scamp, said it had provided the town with 'a heart' and commemorated not only the miners but 100 years of history in Burntwood.

"People forget that Chasetown and Chase Terrace did not exist until the pits," he said.

Fundraising is still ongoing to pay for the £50,000 tribute.

The names of miners who worked in the local pits are recorded on plaques around the plinth.

Mr Bradbury said: "It was wonderful to see the monument finally unveiled. It has attracted a lot of attention since the official ceremony. It has given the town a heart.

"Before now there was no real focus to the High Street. Sankey's Corner, in the middle of Chasetown and Chase Terrace, seemed the right place for it."

The ceremony was followed by music from Rugeley Power Station Band and a pig roast.

A video played in the library showing the stages of the sculpture's progress and a book about the background of the project was on sale.

Directors Ivor Skinner, Syed Ziaullah, Karl Brown, Jon Barber, Mark Fletcher and Quentin Abel at the new facility

DELIVERY firm bosses have taken the wraps off their new £15 million headquarters in Cannock, showing off the building to 400 depot chiefs at a presentation.

Parcel giant APC Overnight moved its annual all-depots' meeting on Saturday from the company's Essington site to its yet-to-be-opened national sorting centre at Kingswood Lakeside so staff could look around. The meeting was followed in the evening by a black-tie awards dinner at the Hilton Metropole Hotel in Birmingham.

APC Overnight has 115 independent depots around the UK.

Capacity

The finishing touches are currently being made to the new HQ, covering 138,000sq ft.

The transformation of the former open cast coal mine site will allow the firm to double its capacity from handling one-and-a-half million items a month to three million.

Tara Barnes, head of sales and marketing, said: "This was a chance to showcase our new national sortation centre. We had business to attend to but there was also a chance to look around. Everyone was most impressed with what they saw.

"The awards dinner was an opportunity to say thank you and well done to everyone involved with the company."

Centre hit by vandals before it is opened

VANDALS have caused £30,000 of damage at a multi-million pound Hednesford community venue before it has even opened.

Yobs have struck four times in a week at The Aquarius in Hednesford which operator Mike Allsopp had planned to open this weekend. It will now be unveiled on June 22, with Wolves legend Steve Bull cutting the ribbon at 1pm.

The opening has already been delayed by four months over a legal wrangle and contracts were finally exchanged on Friday between developers St Modwen and owners, Cannock Chase Council.

Canopy

Mr Allsopp said louts had targeted the community centre in Victoria Shopping Park, hanging around the empty building and causing damage. He described the attacks as 'soul destroying'.

Last week vandals smashed one of the upper windows on the glass-fronted building when a brick was hurled. A glass canopy below was also broken as the brick bounced on it before hitting the ground.

Youngsters have been seen at other times throwing missiles which have also shattered two other canopy panes.

On Saturday, Mr Allsopp arrived to find a further break, in a window that had already been smashed. The bricks have shattered the reinforced outer glass but not penetrated the inner pane.

"Two have been fired with such velocity they've actually made a hole," he said. The latest one was the worst.

"There's also been bottles and other rubbish dumped outside. It makes you wonder whether it's worth bothering," Mr Allsopp added.

"If only people would realise that this centre is theirs, it's for the whole community to use."

The 53-year-old, a former detective with West Midlands Police is installing CCTV cameras around the premises and there will also be security on site around the clock.

Owner Mile Allsopp at the vandalised Aquarius in Hednesford

He said: "It's almost inevitable this has happened given the length of time it has taken to sort out complications over the lease.

"The building has been completed since October and we thought we would be in by mid-February."

The building includes two function rooms with stages and bars, a large kitchen, changing rooms and toilets. The Aquarius is almost booked out with functions to the end of the year. More than 14 community groups have also taken up regular weekly slots.

Glass talk proves a hot topic

CHASE TERRACE LADIES CLUB

RAFFLE tickets were sold at the May meeting in aid of the local Breathe Easy group.

There are more than 230 such groups across Britain, providing support and information for people living with a lung condition, their relatives and carers. They are run by members with help and support from British Lung Foundation regional teams when needed.

The meeting saw the welcome return of Cas Bailey who gave an informative and funny talk on 'Handcuffs to Hot Glass'.

She was in the police force for 32 years and is now retired. She felt she wanted to go in to full-time education to pursue another career and after seeing an advert for a course in Brierley Hill for glass working, was accepted onto a government funded course which can lead on to a Btec in glass design.

The International Glass Centre at Dudley College is a centre for excellence that caters for students from all parts of the world. It offers year-long courses in glass techniques and technology.

Cass can now be seen working and selling her products at Shugborough Hall at Sandshine Glass. She uses powdered glass, glass rods and fuse glass to make small ornaments, trinkets and jewellery, some of which she brought in.

Ex-police officer in memory lane trip

CANNOCK CHASE LADIES PROBUS CLUB

THE club held its monthly May luncheon meeting at The Barns Restaurant.

Pearl Tomkinson said Grace after which the ladies enjoyed their luncheon.

After the Loyal Toast Mr Cryer gave a most interesting talk in which he looked back down the years to his early years in the police force, stationed for many years at Smethwick. He took the ladies on a trip down memory lane and spoke of his childhood years when his family lived in the Round House on Shoal Hill, at the junction of New Penkridge Road and Cocksparrow Lane. He attended John Wood and Walhouse schools and spoke of Cannock town 50 years ago. Founder club member Dora Leighton ave the vote of thanks.

The chairman then announced that founder member Audrey Critchlow a past chairman, was to be made an Honorary Member. The ladies welcomed this move.

Gifts as president retires

CANNOCK WI

RETIRING president Stella Winfield said everyone had enjoyed the Hayes Green Group meeting, hosted by Cannock WI.

She said she had enjoyed her past two years, particularly the Queen's Jubilee celebrations, and wished every success to the incoming president. Mrs Winfield thanked the committee and club members for their help and support. A letter of thanks would be sent to St Luke's for the use of the church hall, and a donation will be given to the church from the WI.

The committee gave Mrs Winfield a plant and the Cookery Group presented her with opium perfume.

Del Johnson officiated at the AGM, with Chris Pace named president and Mary Fullelove and June Fox becoming committee members.

Members then enjoyed a quiz followed by a raffle and the Easter Bonnet competition,won by Win Gardner.

The next meeting is Thursday May 9 at 10.30am at St Luke's church hall with Ken Marshall the spea-ker on 'Drink My Garden'.

Trust's festival is a real ale success

Trust member Dave Podmore from Hednesford eyes up a tasty brew at the food and beer festival

FOOD and drink lovers helped a conservation charity rake in more than £20,000.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is hailing its most successful food and beer festival, which attracted more than 1,500 visitors to its grounds at the Wolseley Centre,.

They had the pick of the 30 local ales, wines and ciders, as well as locally-produced breads, pastries, savoury eggs, cheeses and pickles.

Event organiser Alison Rhodes said: "We'd like to say thank you to everyone who came along and helped support our work.

"We had a bumper year breaking many records set from previous festivals, with everyone having a great time in the sunshine."

There was also live music. Proceeds will go towards the trust's work, looking after and helping wildlife on 26 nature reserves across the county, as well as organising hundreds of guided walks and educational days.

Paul's Fund to benefit as artist's work on sale

A BIRMINGHAM artist is raising money for a charity set up in memory of a Cannock man next weekend.

The unique artistic exhibition and music event takes place on Saturday, June 22. It will raise money for Paul's Fund, set up in memory of 37-year-old Paul Lee-Davis who lost his battle with leukaemia in 2011.

Artist Claire A' Belles

Designed

Claire uses old print techniques and applies them to canvas. She also prints on furniture.

She has exhibited in Berlin, Paris, Japan and London and has also designed album covers.

There will be about 50 items on sale including limited edition prints, canvas based work, water colour drawings and decorated cupboards, tables and plates.

Prices range from £5-£300 with a percentage of sales donated to the fund. There will also be a raffle and bucket collection.

Local bands Barnesy, Ship of Fools, Forloco and Mass House Circus will be performing, along with an acoustic set from Babyshambles guitarist Drew McConell.

Admission is a suggested minimum £3 donation in aid of the fund. Refreshments, including wine and beer, will be available.

Why gold pawnbroking is preferable to payday loans

If you need access to cash quickly, gold pawnbroking may prove to have considerable advantages over payday loans.

Pawnbroking works by lending money to a client based on the value of their jewellery, which is used as collateral against a short term loan. When commencing any type of borrowing, the Annual Percentage Rate or APR is the figure you need to take into most consideration. Leading payday loan companies offer an APR of approximately 4214%, compared to 110% APR at Cashline Pawnbrokers.

If you were to equate these percentages to a £100 loan, the monthly interest you would pay to a payday loan company would be £36.72, compared to only £8 to Cashline.

Our service is also quick and highly confidential, as your bank account remains unaffected by any movement of funds. With no credit or background checks required, your chances of being refused much needed money are eliminated. A cash loan can also be secured in as little as 5 minutes and there's no need to provide proof of income.

If you have precious jewellery you're reluctant to let go of, that's not a problem either. Your jewellery is kept in a safe vault until you're in a position to pay the loan back. Our borrowing period is usually over a maximum of 6 months, until any items are redeemed. Whether you wish to redeem your jewellery or not, it's completely your choice and you have control over when to redeem items too.

Visit Cashline in Cannock for your FREE costume jewellery gift*

At Cashline Pawnbrokers, we find that many people don't fully appreciate that gold pawnbroking is a highly flexible, inexpensive and convenient way of obtaining vital funds. Our friendly and professional staff therefore endeavours to guide customers through the entire process.

Whatever your current circumstances, if you need some extra cash to make life smoother, gold pawnbroking is likely to be the right option.

As a special limited offer, Cashline are also offering a FREE costume jewellery necklace, bracelet or ring with every pawn transaction - valid until 31st August, 2013.

For further information, phone the Cashline Pawnbrokers Cannock store, Cannock Shopping Centre (situated by Argos) on 01543 897 756 or visit www.cashlinepawnbrokers.co.uk. Cashline is also located at Bull Ring Indoor Market, Birmingham or St Michael Street, West Bromwich.

Manager Rita Flanaghan celebrates the Investors in People award with Conifers Nursing Home staff, Great Wyrley

A NURSING home in Great Wyrley has been accredited with an Investors In People Award for the 15th year in a row.

The award recognises the practices put into place at Conifers Nursing Home in John's Lane, to look after its staff and residents.

Manager Rita Flanaghan said: "I am very proud of all the team at The Conifers for achieving this award.

Terry Jones, assessor for Investors in People said "The Conifers is a very happy place and staff say they really enjoy working here. This is as a result of the openness and approachability of managers and colleagues and a collaborative team spirit."

The home provides care for up to 40 residents, and caters for a variety of conditions associated with old age.

For further information, please contact the manager on 01922 415473 or visit www.conifersnursinghome.co.uk

Plant smells monitored

ENVIRONMENT Agency officers have been paying regular visits to a controversial Cannock waste plant at the centre of a bad smells row.

The Poplars Landfill site in Heath Hayes has received complaints about the odour since 2011, with more than 80 families having sought legal action against its owners Biffa.

Last year the waste company invested a total of £800,000 on improvements to its anaerobic digestion plant, which recycles food waste, in a bid to stop the smells plaguing residents on the nearby Newlands Park estate.

Problems

Since October a host of improvements have been made and since March the Environment Agency has been sending out officers on an almost daily basis to assess the problems.

Last Thursday, around 50 people attended a public meeting at Hayes Green Community Centre in Heath Hayes. A spokesman from the Environment Agency said: "We are working closely with Biffa to make sure they comply with their Environmental Permit and take all appropriate measures to prevent odours escaping.

"Since the beginning of March our officers have visited the area almost every day to assess odours coming from the plant. We will continue to do this.

"Biffa have confirmed to us that they will fit a further odour control filter in early July."

HS2 campaigners set to gather for protest rally

HUNDREDS of campaigners trying to stop high-speed rail link tearing through the region will do battle at a huge rally.

The protest on June 29 could raise thousands of pounds for a fighting fund.

Action group Stop HS2 will converge on the County Showground in Stafford to fight the £33bn proposals and the impact it would have on the area.

Politicians, campaign groups and wildlife organisations including the Woodland Trust and RSPB will join the day of action.

Stop HS2 spokesman Joe Rukin said they were expecting a huge turnout at the showground, which itself could be sliced in two by the rail line.

Vanity

He said: "There are a lot of people out there who have had HS2 dumped on them and don't know what to do but they will if they come to the convention.

"It will only make the campaign against this insane white elephant vanity project even stronger," he said.

Workshops will be held on the impact of HS2, compensation and tips given on how to set up action groups. Tickets are £10 which organisers say will go towards the costs of the legal battle. HS2 Ltd will not be attending, said spokesman Adam Joyce.

The route goes through Whittington, near Lichfield, Great Haywood and Ingestre. It will slash journey times between Birmingham and London but opponents say it will blight homes.

Police chief honoured

Chief Constable of Staffordshire Police Michael Cunningham is decorated with the Queen's Police Medal by the Prince of Wales

Mike Cunningham was given the Queen's Police Medal in the New Year's honours list.

He travelled to the capital to collect the award from Prince Charles, watched by his wife, two children and his mother.

Mr Cunningham, who joined the force in September 2009, said: "I feel really honoured to be given this award but it's also a tribute to the many colleagues I've worked with."

T-shirt competition held at church's summer fair

A SUMMER fair takes place at a Hednesford church this weekend.

The annual event will take place at Our lady of Lourdes, in Uxbridge Street from 11am until 1pm on Saturday (June 15).

There will be plants, cakes, a tombola, with more than 30 prizes and a decorated T-shirt competition.

Centenarian Nellie Cowley with sons Christopher and Stephen Carter and daughter Margaret Owens

A BURNTWOOD woman marked a personal milestone as she celebrated her 100th birthday. Violet Cowley – known to friends and family as Nellie – currently resides at Chaseview Care Home but still insists on being as independent as she can while enjoying a laugh with others.

Nellie was originally from London, and then lived in Brownhills before moving to Burntwood in 1959. She worked at a vinegar factory in New Road as well as cafes.

The centenarian lived in Ironstone Road before moving into a care home in 2010. Nellie received a telegram from the Queen and was treated to a party with family and friends.

Nellie, who had 12 children and has scores of grandchildren and great grandchildren, lost her first love, husband Stephen, 50 years ago.

Daughter Margaret Owens, aged 65, from Telford, said: "It is brilliant to think my mother is 100 years old."

Cemetery scheme restarts

WORK has finally started on a stalled road scheme which will pave the way for a new 32,000-plot cemetery.

BT engineers have started 16 weeks of infrastructure improvements connected to Springhill Cemetery, which has already sold 4,000 plots, months in advance of its actual opening.

The project was originally due to begin in the new year, but has faced a five-month delay because of red tape.

Lichfield District Council said work had started without proper permission and BT has since been hit by unforeseen hold-ups to the project.

Once its work has been completed, National Grid will install power cables. Utilities companies will then move onto the site before a new road island is constructed.

Safe

Kamran Saleem, sales and administration manager for Springhill Cemetery Group on the Walsall Road, near Muckley Corner said: "We will be allowed to start work on the site once the road island is in place so the road is deemed safe by the council.

"I think the infrastructure work will take two to three months in total, and so we hope it goes to plan this time.

"We aren't sure on the exact opening soon but we think it will be at the end of the year," he added.

Amy Walker, for BT, said: "We are building a manhole, along with rerouting underground ducts and cabling, so that a traffic island can be built in preparation for a new burial ground."

School has strong family feel and Christian ethos

ARE you looking for a primary school with a strong family feel and a Christian ethos, as well as a fun place where your child will be treated as an individual everyday?

You will find all of this, and more, at Havergal CofE Primary School, which is located within the village of Shareshill just outside Cannock.

With only 186 children in seven classes, it is a great place for children to flourish as they begin their own 'Learning Journey'.

Learning at Havergal Primary School is personalised, meaningful and challenging. Through the use of 'Themed Learning', all areas of the curriculum are covered, in fun and interesting way.

Views

The children at Havergal Primary School also develop good learning habits, encouraging them to gain independent skills, such as perseverance, that will last them a lifetime.

Students are included in the continued development of the school with their views sought through Eco, Sports, and School Councils.

The staff and pupils at Havergal consistently strive to be the best that they can be. Staff are approachable, helpful and dedicated practitioners, and help to foster the strong family feel of this small school.

They also provide many after school events, including a range of sports, gardening and art clubs.

There are also many opportunities for pupils to participate in educational visits, themed days and a variety of interesting visitors also help enrich the pupil's educational experiences.

Love, Laughter and Learning' happen everyday at Havergal Primary

Havergal CofE Primary School has strong links within the local community and particularly, with the church of St Mary and St Luke in the village.

The clergy are regular visitors, both to deliver worship and contribute to the children's learning in other ways.

Recognised

Christian values are developed through the 'Fruits of the Spirit', encouraging all of the children to love, care, be patient and kind to others.

In November 2012, the school achieved an outstanding church inspection and is now recognised as a beacon Church of England School'.

So please, come and visit us and have a look around for yourself. We would love to meet you and your child at our small, friendly school, where 'Love, Laughter and Learning' happen everyday. Come and see us and find out more!

Royal day of colour as troops honoured

TROOPS from the former Staffordshire Regiment were presented with their new colours by Prince Charles.

It is the first time the 3rd Battalion the Mercian Regiment (3Mercian) have had their own standard.

Since they were formed in 2007, they have carried the colours of The Staffords, which they replaced during a revamp of the army.

But the new standard will soon be laid up at Lichfield Cathedral alongside that of the Staffords after 3Mercian ceases to exist. Troops will merge with comrades in the 1st and 2nd battalions of the regiment in the latest reorganisation of the British Army.

The move will be made after they have completed a six-month tour of duty of Afghanistan.

The colours are presented by Colonel-In-Chief the Prince of Wales

Rallying

The Prince of Wales, as Colonel-in-Chief of The Mercian Regiment, formally presented each of the unit's four battalions – three regular and one territorial which will be based at Fallings Park – with their new silk colours at a ceremony in Worcester last Thursday.

Traditionally, the flags would form a rallying point for the men of the regiment on the battlefield and are emblazoned with the names of famous campaigns the unit has fought in.

At a ceremony at the Sixways Stadium, the Prince addressed the 500 soldiers parading for the occasion and said: "I am endlessly proud of you all."

He presented new regimental and Queen's colours to each battalion, wearing the black number one ceremonial dress of The Mercians, in front of hundreds of members of the regiment's extended family, including young children and veterans.

The Prince praised the former Staffordshire Regiment for showing 'service, selflessness and sacrifice'.

He said he was aware they faced 'real challenges' and 'sadness' as they prepared to disband, adding: "I wish you all every possible success and good fortune for the future.

"As your Colonel-in-Chief I am also endlessly proud of you all and especially pleased to be able to share this day with you. Today, it is right that as a regiment we remember with gratitude and pride those who tragically are no longer with us and we also remember their loved ones whose lives will never be the same again and who are with us on this occasion.

He added: "The colours I have just presented continue to represent the heritage, fighting spirit and soul of this fine regiment."

TRAVEL

Be Bourne again with a visit to this resort

SEVEN miles of golden sands, with four Blue Flags, more than 200 hotels and guest-houses, quality restaurants and all-year round entertainment – the south coast town of Bournemouth sure has a lot going for it.

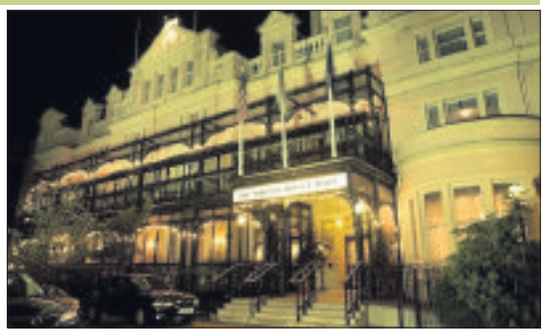
The resort attracts nearly five million visitors each year, its two historic piers, Bournemouth and Boscombe, both have Quality Coast awards and there's even a link to The Beatles. The cover for the Fab Four's With The Beatles album was taken at the Palace Court Hotel, now the Premier Inn, in 1963.

Festival

Lord of The Rings author JRR Tolkien, stationed on Cannock Chase during the First World War, loved the town so much that he holidayed there every year and was living in Bournemouth at the time of death in 1973.

The biggest free festival of its kind, the Bournemouth Festival is staged annually. Visitors can also get airborne with the famous Bournemouth Balloon, giving them a panoramic view for 20 miles around from 500 feet high. Bournemouth International Airport takes passengers to more than 50 destinations.

Bournemouth apparently averages more sunshine than anywhere else in the country, and my family and I certainly found a great time to visit as the sun beat down, offering a superb taste of what the town has to offer. The beach was packed, and is only a stone's throw away from the main town. Yards away are the Oceanarium, which houses a variety of sea creatures. Just a few strides from there is the town's most popular seafood restaurant the Westbeech, where we enjoyed both a terrific lunch as well as stunning coastal views.



The 4-star Norfolk Hotel in Bournemouth boasts 95 en suite rooms

An interior shot of the Westbeech, the town's premier seafood restaurant

We stayed at the Norfolk Royale in the heart of the town. Boasting 95 en suite rooms, it is the town's premier 4-Star hotel, where facilities include an indoor pool, steam room, sauna and beauty salon. Prices start at just £57 per person per night bed and breakfast.

We even found the time to visit the fascinating and historic Russell-Cotes Museum and Art Gallery, dedicated to Sir Merton Russell-Cotes, the Wolverhampton-born former Mayor of Bournemouth, and where the interiors for Ken Russell's 1978 biopic Valentino were filmed.

Christchurch, Poole and Weymouth are all in easy reach, as is the New Forest, ideal for cycling, walking or pony riding. For more details about Bournemouth, contact the tourism information office on 01202 451750.

Laura on alert as sky's the limit in fundraiser

Veterinary nurse Laura Gibson who will be doing a sky dive to raise money for Alert, the African lion charity

THE sky's the limit for a veterinary nurse who is preparing for a leap of faith to raise money for an animal charity.

Laura Gibson, aged 28, works at Number 1 Vets in Rugeley and will be jumping from a plane in August to raise cash for the African Lion and Environmental Research Trust, otherwise known as Alert.

Laura said: "Alert is a fantastic charity which helps to rehabilitate lions back into the wild.

"I was a volunteer for the organisation in Zimbabwe in 2010 and while there I was able to walk with cubs and watch lions to get them accustomed to the wilderness and noise.

"It was an amazing experience and I am really keen to go again but for now I have decided to do a skydive to raise money for this worthwhile cause.

Anxious

"I've never done anything like this before and at the moment I'm not nervous at all, I'm actually quite excited, but I know closer to the time I will be anxious."

Miss Gibson, originally from Burntwood, but now living in Brownhills, said she had always had a passion for lions after seeing them on TV as a young girl.

She added: "My mum let me watch Born Free when I was young, which was about a couple who lived in Kenya with an adopted lioness and I think my love of lions stems from that.

"As a veterinary nurse I adore all animals but lions are my particular favourite and so for that reason I want to raise as much money as possible for Alert."

Night of spirits on offer at working men's club

CLUBGOERS can enjoy an evening of spirit later this month – but not necessarily the alcoholic kind.

Greenheath WMC, in Blewittt Street, Hednesford is hosting the evening on Wednesday, June 26, from 7.30pm. Tickets are £10, available from Joyce on 01543 579755, with a light buffet and a raffle. Three working mediums will visit each table to enable everyone to receive a spiritual message.

Meanwhile, spiritual readings are being offered at a Heath Hayes church on Saturday, June 29. They are held on the last Saturday of each month at Heath Hayes Spiritualist Church, The Cabin, Hednesford Road, from 10am to noon and from 1-4pm. Cost is £12 for a 30-minute one-to-one tarot and angel card reading. Call Joyce to book.

Cafe put up for sale as campaigner 'driven out'

HOSPITAL campaigner Julie Bailey has put her cafe in Stafford up for sale on eBay and is preparing to pack up and leave the town.

The lease for Breaks Cafe is currently on the market on eBay for starting offers of £10,000.

Campaigner Julie Bailey

Miss Bailey feels she is being 'hounded out' and had has previously complained of harassment following her fight to bring people to justice over the Stafford Hospital scandal.

Her spokesman, Stafford councillor Tom Harris said she was selling up because of the upset suffered at the hands of those opposed to her campaign.

He said: "She has been hounded out. Selling the business is just the next stage in the leaving process. Of course she is sad. Stafford is her home town but she no longer feels safe."

Furnishings

The cafe seats 16 people and has a five-star hygiene rating. It is being sold as a going concern complete with an A3 cooking licence.

Miss Bailey is looking for £15,000 for a quick sale, inviting starting offers of no less that £10,000. The price includes all kitchen equipment and furnishings. She is also marketing the business through other outlets.

Miss Bailey founded the Cure The NHS group after her 86-year-old mother Bella died at the hospital in 2007 and fought to uncover shocking neglect and appalling standards of care at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust.

Sections of the community have since turned against her and her cafe, in Lichfield Road, has been boycotted.

Delays alert as road to be repaired

DRIVERS using a main road near Cannock that links to the M6 will face two months of delays for a new £470,000 repairs scheme.

Resurfacing work on the busy A462 Warstone Road, in Saredon, will start in late August.

The road, between the Laney Green island at the M6 Junction 11 and Hilton Lane, will also have damaged kerbs replaced.

County council chiefs have warned there will be delays in the area while the work is carried out.

Mark Winnington, cabinet member for economy and infrastructure, said: "The scheme will take eight weeks to complete and we have planned the work to minimise any disruption."

Essington parish council David Clifft said residents had been waiting for the work to start for more than a year since funding was approved.

He said: "It is obviously going to cause major problems but it's essential that this is carried out."

Rat Pack show

TICKETS have gone on sale for The Rat Pack Vegas Spectacular at the Prince of Wales Centre. They are priced at £20 for the show on Sunday, October 13. Visit the Church Street theatre's box office, call 01543 578762 or visit www.wlct.org

Students' volunteer work helps out children's charity

Abbie Rowley and Laura Nayes spent the week at Cannock-based Newlife, a national children's disability charity, as part of Volunteers' Week, talking to customers about ways they could help the charity.

Retail student Abbie and Laura, who will study fashion retail management at Birmingham University in the autumn, helped by de-labelling clothing donated by leading High Street chains, ready for re-sale at the charity's Hemlock Way shop.

Other volunteers take on fundraising roles through sponsored events, making craft items to sell or hosting coffee mornings and jewellery sales with stock supplied by Newlife. For information, call 0800 988 4640.

Rocker Mitchel so proud as Voice hope comes to an end

A TEENAGE rocker from Burntwood said he was proud of his performances after he was booted out of TV talent show The Voice at the quarter final stage.

Mitchel Emms' performance of Imagine Dragons' Radioactive during last week's live show failed to win mentor Danny O'Donoghue's 'fast pass'. And the 19-year-old did then not win enough public votes.

Mitchel had sung his way into The Script singer's final three acts, going head to head with 11 others mentored by Sir Tom Jones, Jessie J and Will.i.am.

He was eager to impress and win one of two places on offer in the group for next week's semi-final.

Mitchel Emms

Disappointed

But his mentor's 'fast pass' went to Northern Irish civil servant Andrea Begley and fellow singer Karl Michael later got a place in the semi-finals after winning the most public votes.

Mitchel said: "I never imagined I'd be getting this far.

"Of course I'm extremely disappointed because I had a lot more to show. But I'm really proud."

Mitchel was praised by all four judges, with Will.i.am describing his performance as 'electrifying' and Sir Tom adding: "It was fantastic."

Danny told him: "People should just line-up now and buy tickets to the Mitchel Emms show. In my opinion, that was the best performance I've seen from you so far in this competition.

"It's a testament to your talent that you've made it so far."

After hugging Mitchel following his performance, host Holly Willoughby said: "I felt like you just headlined your own gig there. You were so at home."

Mitchel added: "I'm a big fan of rock music. I feel incredible and I feel as if I put in a more controlled performance tonight.

"I'm so proud to represent alternative rock music."

Ofsted report good news for Little Owls

Manager Anna Hartshorne, right and play worker Kathryn Palmer with childre at the Little Owl Childcare Centre

A CHILDCARE service run from a Burntwood school has been praised in an Ofsted report.

Inspectors rated Little Owl Childcare Service as 'good' with elements of outstanding.

Inspector Jayne Rooke, states: "Parents speak highly of the setting's friendly and approachable adults and value the interest they show in their child's learning.

"Rooms are bright and well-organised, providing space for varied activities, as well as rest and relaxation."

Little Owl Childcare opened at Chase Terrace Primary school earlier this year and offers both day care and after-school services.

Sarah McCormick, founder of Little Owls Childcare said: "We are absolutely delighted with the outcome, it is a true reflection of the excellent practice and unconditional staff commitment of the staff and families."

Contest is a chance to relive those salad days

RESIDENTS in Burntwood are being encouraged to share their creative culinary skills in a contest

Bagged salad producer Florette, is running the One Minute Wonder competition as part of its sponsorship of the Lichfield Festival Market, which takes place on July 6.

People can share their recipes for making a salad dish in just 60 seconds with the five best ideas brought to life in a cook-off on the day.

Seasoned

The winner will earn a place on a leading cookery course at the Seasoned Cookery School near Lichfield.

Niki Webster from Florette said: "We're delighted to be bringing our interactive One Minute Wonder kitchen to this year's event and look forward to receiving some fresh and exciting recipe ideas."

Football team seeks recruits

YOUNG footballers are being encouraged to sign up to Burntwood Dragons under 12's team.

To be eligible to play, players must be in Year 7 at secondary school.

For more information call 07786968721.

Appeal for artists to put work on display

ARTISTS from Burntwood are being invited to showcase their work at this year's Lichfield Fuse festival, an annual exhibition known as The Event In a Tent

Art in the Tent will be open from 12-7pm on July 13 and 12-5pm on July 14 at Beacon Park.

To reserve an exhibition panel, artists need to complete an entry form, giving the name, title, medium and sale price of each piece. The closing date for completed forms is Saturday, June 29.

Costs

A fee of £10 must be paid for every exhibition panel used to cover costs.

Volunteers are also asked to come forward to help set up the exhibitions and make sure the event runs smoothly.

For more information and to download an entry form visit www.lichfielddc.gov.uk/art or send an email to celia.houghton@lichfielddc.gov.uk

Doors open on care home day

Hammerwich Hall residential home is opening its doors from 2pm on Friday, June 21 to mark National Care Home Open Day.

Fundraising cyclists hit peak condition

Phil Deakin, Steve Moss and Graham Birch, all from the Brereton Wheelers, set off from Rugeley town centre at 1am on Saturday (June 8) and cycled two laps around the Peak District in Derbyshire.

They are on track to raise more than £1,000 for the Tuberous Sclerosis Association, a charity supporting people affected by the condition, which causes benign tumours to grow in vital organs like the brain, lungs and kidneys.

The cyclists, who have an average age of 47, completed the Big Brereton 123 ride in 23 hours and 15 minutes.

Emphatic

The route, devised by the club's late president Reg Mobberley and first completed in the 1960s, took them through Stone, Meir Heath and Leek before they arrived at the foot of the eight-mile long Cat and Fiddle climb out of Macclesfield at dawn.

They arrived home just after midnight on Sunday, returning to an 'emphatic reception' from their families.

Mr Deakin, aged 51, from Rugeley, said: "It was exhilarating, just this incredible feeling of shared achievement that no one can take away from."

He added: "In our experience Tuberous Sclerosis is a little-known condition and doesn't always attract the same level of notice that other more commonly diseases do.

"We wanted to draw some attention to the plight of those who suffer from it, as well as raise funds to support the wonderful work that the TSA carry out."

Grace and verve served with dash of colour

Coppelia, Birmingham Hippodrome

Not only are we presented with the grace and verve justifiably associated with Birmingham Royal Ballet but we are also treated to the most magnificent blush of colour, the ideal companion to the comedic japery of the story being told.

Michael O'Hare as Dr Coppelius, the inventor who creates life-size marionettes is suitably quirky and Chi Cao as Franz as the feckless youth who falls fruitlessly for Coppelia's charms is a joy to watch. Nao Sakuma as the impish Swanilda lends ease to the most difficult choreography with a delightful lightness and fluidity of step.

Paul Murphy who conducted the Royal Ballet Sinfonia Orchestra in Delibes' joyous score deservedly received the warm adulation of the audience. Sarah Cowen-Strong

Ghost is simply out of this world

Ghost The Musical, Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton

IF anything is likely to boost the attendance at pottery classes this is it. The smash-hit musical Ghost – direct from the West End – is simply out of this world.

And although that memorable potter's wheel part seemed to be passed over very quickly the packed Grand Theatre were still held spellbound by the dazzling state-of-the-art staging and effects.

Based on the Oscar-winning movie from the 90s, Ghost is a timeless fantasy about the power of love. Sam is trapped as a ghost between this world and the next trying to communicate with girlfriend Molly through a phoney psychic in the hope of saving her from his murderer.

Stewart Clarke as Sam was just unstoppable as he dashed around the stage, 'walking' through doors and pretending to be invisible and certainly had a very good voice. It must have been very hard for the rest of the cast to act as though he wasn't actually standing next to them but girlfriend Molly (Rebecca Trehearn) did an excellent job, giving a a very moving performance.

As well as the very poignant moments there were plenty of laughs thanks to the psychic Oda Mae Brown played by namesake Wendy Mae Brown. With direction from Matthew Warchus Ghost continues at the Grand until Saturday.

Ghost' stars Stewart Clarke as Sam Wheat and Rebecca Trehearn as Molly

The Jools Holland Rhythm and Blues Orchestra, Civic Hall Wolverhampton.

THE Jools Holland Rhythm and Blues Orchestra may have been in town but the show was stolen by one of his guests.

The master of boogie woogie stood aside as he invited former Fine Young Cannibals singer Roland Gift onto the stage. He needed no second bidding and the crowd lapped up a short set that included Suspicious Minds and Good Thing.

Holland also put the spotlight on individual members of his 16-strong orchestra and on the many different genres he loves.

Hence we had 79-year-old Rico Rodriguez, one of the originators of ska, followed by a solo from Gilson Lavis, 'the world's best drummer' according to Holland.

He even managed to fit in a tribute to classical composer Wagner – well it would have been his 200th birthday. Other featured styles included country – with final guest Ruby Turner – gospel, reggae, rock and jazz.

Holland's first encore was, appropriately, Well Alright, OK, You Win. Then he finished with Enjoy Yourself (It's Later Than You Think). Tony Attwater

Shop has Precious Memories for Olivia

Olivia Dando opens Precious Memories in partnership with Sparkling Sugar Cakes owner Amie Hodgkiss

A WEDDING planner has followed in the footsteps of her best friend by setting up shop at a neighbouring premises.

Olivia Dando, aged 27, has moved in next to former school pal Amie Hodgkiss who took over a cake shop in Bridgtown six months ago.

Now the mother-of-one has opened Precious Memories, which caters for weddings, christenings and other occasions, in the adjoining premises.

The shop provides dressy chair covers, candy carts, sweet trees, handmade cards, commemorative plaques and will also set up venues for various events.

The residential support worker, who works with autistic children in Rugeley, said it was a dream come true to start her own business.

The shop is next to Amie's Sparkling Sugar Cakes store in North Street. Olivia said: "It's something I've always wanted to do but it wasn't planned, it just kind of happened."

Jobs axe plan as council in £1.7m deficit

YOUTH clubs, sport sessions and child play schemes could be slashed and 20 jobs axed as Lichfield District Council tries to plug a £1.7m black hole.

Under plans drawn up by the authority, street cleaning, ground maintenance and CCTV budgets would all be reduced, affecting services in Burntwood and Chase Terrace as well as in Lichfield itself.

by Rob Golledge

Under the proposal, opening hours at the city's King Edward VI Leisure Centre would be reduced as well as charges introduced for using public toilets and hiring scooters for the disabled.

Package

Council leader Mike Wilcox said: "We are facing tough decisions as a result of central government funding cuts. Next year we need to save more than £1.7 million.

"We have assessed views from our residents' questionnaires, as well as ideas from across the whole council, to come up with a package of proposed measures worth around £1 million.

"The proposals will be considered in the next few months. Many of our community and partnerships services will be stopped, but we'll continue to offer support in areas such as community safety, safeguarding of children and vulnerable adults, equalities, work clubs and our grant aid programme.

"From the changes identified so far, about 20 posts will be directly affected and this will regrettably lead to redundancies."

Opposition Labour group leader Steve Norman, who represents Burntwood's Summerfield ward, urged people to have their say on the plans.

Any decision has to be taken by members of the full council on July 9.

Court date on fraud charge

A MAN has appeared in court charged with two counts of defrauding a Cannock robotics company. David Hickinbottom, aged 27, of Bennett Avenue, Dudley, is charged with making payments for goods that were not supplied and issuing bonuses for transactions that did not take place, Cannock magistrates court was told. The defendant, who has yet to plead, was represented by Mr Chris Stewart. Prosecuting, Mr Andrew Bodger asked for the case to be sent to Stafford Crown Court. Hickinbottom will appear at crown court on July 15.

Longthorne performs at town venue

TALENTED entertainer Joe Longthorne performs at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre next month.

It has been more than three decades since Longthorne began his entertainment career, with performances on Junior Showtime followed by London Weekend's Search For a Star competition, the show that gave him his big break.

Appearances at the London Palladium and a Variety Club award as Most Promising Artiste followed, as well as television specials both at home and in the USA.

Albums have gone gold and platinum and he has toured extensively around the world.

Challenges

Despite health and financial problems, Longthorne continues to perform and his repertoire of voices make him a popular draw even now. He is best-known for his take-off of Shirley Bassey, but is known to impersonate hundreds of top stars.

Longthorne is looking forward to fresh challenges, new songs and a different generation of audiences to entertain, and he performs at the Church Street theatre on Friday, July 5, from 7.30pm.

Tickets are priced at £22 and can be obtained from the box office on 01543 578762.

Take That's Mark on the art of being busy doing nothing

WITH Take That taking their first major break since reuniting in 2006, superstar singer Mark Owen might be expected to be enjoying a well-deserved rest.

But instead the 41-year-old heart-throb from Oldham will be spending this month promoting his fourth solo album with a series of gigs – including a concert at The Institute in Birmingham tomorrow night (Friday).

The album, ironically entitled The Art of Doing Nothing, and its lead single Stars, were both released this week.

Solo album and summer tour for Take That's Mark Owen

Songs

According to Mark, he's not very good at doing nothing.

"I've been making songs for 20 years now and I don't really know what else to do," he said.

"It's my hobby and my day job all in one."

The album is his most collaborative to date, featuring a duet with Salford songstress Ren Harvieu and London rapper Jake Emlyn, who was recommended to him by Robbie Williams.

HIP comic Russell Kane is heading to the Black Country for a gig at West Bromwich venue The Public this autumn.

Edinburgh Comedy Award winner Kane is the biggest name yet to play the controversial arts centre and is due to appear on Saturday, October 5.

One of the most sought after stand-ups in the UK, the I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here! Now!' presenter will be performing at the town centre venue as part of his nationwide Smallness tour.

The Jedward-haired stand-up will be taking a comic look at Britain's fascination with smallness.

Linda Saunders, managing director of The Public said: "We're absolutely thrilled that Russell Kane will bringing his new show to The Public in what is a real coup for West Bromwich."

Tickets are £17.50 and are available via www.thepublic.com or by calling 0121 533 7161.

Other comedy dates coming up at The Public include professional 'grumpy old woman' Jenny Eclair with her brand new show Eclarious on June 15, and Gina Yashere on October 19.

WELSH National Opera return to Birmingham Hippodrome with three productions over four days.

WNO stage Richard Wagner's romantic epic Lohengrin from 5.30pm today (Thursday) and Saturday, following Wagner Dream, Jonathan Harvey's bicentenary tribute to the German composer, last night. They stage Puccini's Madam Butterfly tomorrow evening.

Gimme fever with best of both bands

THEATREGOERS can see very best of Abba and the Bee Gees in one place later this month.

Gimme! Gimme! Gimme! Night Fever takes place at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, Cannock, from 7.30pm on Saturday, June 29.

It is described as the ultimate not-to-be-missed family show and will have the audience dancing and singing along to the big hits of both bands.

These include such recognised tunes Waterloo, Dancing Queen and Mamma Mia performed by Bootleg Abba – who were formed in 1996 to recreate the sounds of the Swedish quartet – and the likes of Night Fever, Tragedy, and many, many more by tribute act Bee Gees Fever, who have been performing since 1999.

Who and Queen tribute treatment

TRIBUTES to The Who and Queen will entertain pubgoers in Hednesford this weekend.

Trooping the Colour: The Queen's Birthday Parade Highlights BBC2, 6.30pm

As far as pomp and ceremony go, nobody does them quite like the Brits. And there's no event in the British calendar as grand, lavish or darn impressive as Trooping the Colour. Here, Huw Edwards introduces the best moments from this morning's military parade when the Queen's Colour was trooped by the 1st Battalion Welsh Guards at Horse Guards Parade in Whitehall, London, to mark the monarch's official birthday, with members of the royal family, invited guests and the public in attendance.

Rebecca Ferguson

The White Queen
BBC1, 9pm
After weeks of trailers, this epic, 10-part drama based on Philippa Gregory's best-selling, fact-based novel about three women's quest for power in 15th-century England – Elizabeth Woodville, Margaret Beaufort and Anne Neville. It begins with Elizabeth down on her luck, having been widowed when her husband was killed fighting for the deposed Lancastrian King Henry VI. Now destitute, her only hope of supporting her two young sons, is to use her beauty to capture the heart of her family's greatest enemy, young York King Edward IV.

Cruse Bereavement Care South Staffordshire Annual Business Meeting

At this year's Annual Business Meeting at Wade Street Church, Lichfield at 7.30 pm on 3rd July, South Staffordshire Cruse Bereavement Care will be reporting that over 400 people contacted their Helpline to seek bereavement support, a dramatic 72% increase compared to last year. Last year the charity expanded its services to include the Tamworth area in addition to Lichfield and Cannock and 61 Tamworth residents subsequently requested support.

The Guest Speaker at the Annual Business Meeting will be Dodie Graves who will introduce her book, "Talking with Bereaved People - An Approach for Structured and Sensitive Communication." Dodie is Bereavement Services Coordinator at Compton Hospice in Wolverhampton.

Local people are invited to the event which will also be attended by representatives of local councils and organisations who support the charity through donations.

Cruse Bereavement Care offers adults and children the free support of trained bereavement volunteers, following the death of someone close to them. Support is available on a one-to-one basis to help individuals to cope with the pain and range of powerful emotions which can accompany bereavement; helping them to restore hope for their future lives.

To obtain bereavement support, to train as a volunteer or to give a donation, please call the Helpline on : 01543 433479 or e mail southstaffordshire@cruse.org.uk

MONDAY

Green Card, BBC1, 12.05am

A French musician wanting to start a new life in America and a New York woman vie for the perfect flat, only to discover the owner will only rent it out to a married couple. The unlikely pair realise they can solve their problem by getting hitched. However, suspicious immigration officials keep a close eye on them, forcing them to actually live together – and eventually the sham marriage turns into true love. Romantic comedy, with Gerard Depardieu and Andie MacDowell. (1990)

TUESDAY

Biker Boyz, BBC1, 11.35pm

The son of a mechanic killed in a crash is determined to honour his father's memory by becoming a champion motorcycle racer. However, the leader of the underground motorcycle club where his father worked refuses to let him join. Outraged, the young biker assembles his own team and vows to avenge the insult. Action drama, starring Laurence Fishburne, Derek Luke, Orlando Jones and Lisa Bonet. (2003)

Biker Boyz, Tuesday, BBC1, 11.35pm

WEDNESDAY

Flight 93, Channel 4, 2.20am

Fact-based drama about the events aboard the one plane used in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. After learning of the terrifying events at the World Trade Centre and the Pentagon, the passengers realised what was happening and fought back to wrest control of the aircraft. Starring Jeffrey Nordling. (2006)

Columbo: A Stitch in Crime, ITV, 3am

The detective investigates the murder of a nurse, who was about to denounce a renowned cardiac surgeon for planning to murder the colleague helping him design a lucrative life-saving drug. Crime drama, starring Peter Falk, Leonard Nimoy and Will Geer. (1973)

FRIDAY

The Deer Hunter, ITV, 10.35pm

The lives of three American steelworkers and their families are torn apart in the wake of the Vietnam War. After enduring horrific treatment in a prison camp during the conflict, the three friends return to their homes but struggle to readjust to normal life. Oscar-winning drama, starring Robert De Niro, Christopher Walken, Meryl Streep, John Savage and John Cazale. (1978)

The Shipping News, BBC2, 11.05pm

A man struggling to rebuild his life after the death of his emotionally distant wife moves to a small town with his daughter and estranged aunt, where he undergoes a profound journey of self-discovery. Lasse Hallstrom's drama, starring Kevin Spacey and Julianne Moore. (2001)

Pick of the Week

Bringing Hollywood style to Peterborough

When you think of interior décor, what springs to mind? For most of us, it probably means a new lick of paint, or some wallpapering to cover that unsightly crack on the wall, and maybe, if you're feeling flush, the odd piece of new furniture here and there.

Although it's a profession that's been around for many a moon, probably many of us hadn't paid much attention to the idea of employing such a person until Changing Rooms came along in 1996 and made stars of the likes of Linda Barker, Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen and Anna Ryder Richardson.

For many years, Carol Smillie looked on as they and their colleagues cleared out people's living rooms or bedrooms, took a humble piece of MDF and transformed the place into a palace.

It rarely looked as if their efforts could withstand a gust of air created by a slamming door, but for the five minutes they were on camera, they were pretty good.

Changing Rooms' success meant heaps of copycats series followed in its wake, although in recent years, the home makeover genre has largely fallen out of the spotlight. But that could all be about to change... That's because Martyn Lawrence Bullard is heading to our screens in Hollywood Me, Channel 4, Wednesday, 8.00pm.

He's spent years working his way up Los Angeles's society ladder via his profession as an interior designer, and now boasts a client list that includes Elton John, Cher, Aaron Sorkin, the Osbournes and Christina Aguilera – eat your heart out, Linda and co!

Martyn has also presented several US shows, and now he's bringing his unique style to the UK for this new, six-part series – and we're promised that his renovations will please their home's owner, and will be standing for many years to come.

"Martyn is one of Hollywood's most sought-after and flamboyant interior designers and we are delighted that he is bringing his unique touch of eccentricity and celebrity glamour to unsuspecting members of the British public," says Channel 4's Dominic Bird.

Each edition will see Martyn jetting a British resident to California for a makeover, while he transforms their home into a luxury pad. The first episode sees him visit Peterborough, where hard-working mother of quads Emily Bates is in need of some TLC.

In LA, she's taken under the wing of Sharon Osbourne, who takes her on an amazing shopping spree.

Meanwhile, back home, Martyn sets to work, giving Emily's Peterborough pad an injection of Hollywood glamour – but will she be impressed with the results?

Executive producer Rob Butterfield is confident all participants will be thrilled: "With the weather, the economy and the news so gloomy, Hollywood Me brings some much needed La-la Land sunshine, A-List eccentricity and makeovers to die for.

"Martyn is a great interior designer – he's witty, incredibly talented, but a fish out of water working in the UK suburbs rather than the Hollywood Hills.

And our contributors really do have the times of their lives as they're whisked over to LA for a day of A-list treatments with one of their favourite celebs."

Martyn Lawrence Bullard, Wednesday, Channel 4, 8pm

Best of the Rest

Monday

Long Lost Family

ITV, 9pm

Davina McCall and Nicky Campbell return for this tear-jerking series that reunites, well, long-lost family members. But it's the latter for whom this first episode is going to hit rather close to home. Nicky was adopted as a child, and is now a patron of the British Association for Adoption and Fostering. He meets fireman Alan Ross-Harper who's searching for his birth mother who gave him up for adoption in 1958. Keep the tissues handy, as Davina pays a visit to reunite the mother and son. Meanwhile, 68-year-old Susan Udy is desperate to find the daughter she gave up for adoption when she was 21.

Tuesday

Something for Nothing

Channel 4, 8pm

Times are hard. Of course you don't need that pointing out – you're reminded every time you check your bank balance – which is why this little treat has dropped into the schedules at just the right time. Consumer journalist Harry Wallop is on a mission to find out how to live well, without spending a single penny. He's set himself the challenge of looking good, spending a night on the town and throwing a big shindig for the whole community… on a budget of absolutely nothing. The programme is bursting with tips on how to grab cash-free bargains and features some of the most successful freebie finders in the country, including Martha who bagged herself £26,000 worth of wedding freebies.

Frankie

BBC1, 9pm

Gemma Redgrave is no stranger to medical dramas – she used to be the star of Bramwell, the tale of a pioneering Victorian female doctor, who was constantly been belittled by her male colleagues. However, Frankie has given her a chance to play the snooty medic who's lost touch with her patients' needs for a change, as Dr Evans once again butts heads with our feisty district nurse. In the last in the current series, Frankie is frustrated when Nicky, a patient suffering from systemic lupus is told she is fit to work and has her benefits cut. Meanwhile, Dr Evans' solution is to prescribe her steroids so she can get through a shift at the supermarket.

Wednesday

Rhys Jones's Wildlife Patrol

BBC1, 7.30pm

Rhys Jones is a scientific consultant at Cardiff University who works with the police, wildlife groups and concerned members of the public in the fight to save our animals from humans, and humans from animals. Around half his work takes place in the field, investigating wildlife crime, while the other half is spent dealing with the conflicts caused when humans insist on dealing with the animals themselves. This new series, first broadcast in BBC Wales, follows his investigations into animal cruelty.

Love and Marriage

ITV, 9pm

Ken (Duncan Preston) fakes illness in an attempt to win Pauline (Alison Steadman) back. However, she ignores his efforts and goes to a posh hotel with new partner Peter. Meanwhile, a cash-strapped Kevin (Stewart Wright) pinches money from a deceased pensioner. When his mistruths finally catch up with him, Sarah (Ashley Jensen) is stunned by the lies and dreads the fact her husband could be heading for prison.

Thursday

Airport Live

BBC2, 8pm

Documentary series Airport finished its run for good way back in 2008 (Jeremy Spake – remember him? – certainly has a lot to be thankful for since the show thrust him into mild celebrity status). However, this latest series of Airport Live has shown that we've not lost our appetite for all things aviation. The team pitch up at Heathrow for the final time, as Dan Snow finds out if he has what it takes to become an air traffic controller, while Anita Rani discovers how planes might offer a quieter future.

Would I Lie to You?, Friday, BBC1, 8.30pm

Friday

Would I Lie to You?

BBC1, 8.30pm

On Super Saturday during the 2012 Olympics, the then little-known Greg Rutherford won gold in the long jump. A year ago, the unassuming sporting hero would probably have laughed if you'd told him that within 12 months he'd be an Olympic champion, have an MBE and be appearing on Would I Lie to You? But here he is, completing the third event in that particular trio. Whether he's as good at fibbing as he is jumping remains to be seen, but he'll be pitting his wits against broadcaster Kirsty Young, actress and writer Joanna Scanlan and German comedian Henning When. As ever, Rob Brydon takes charge, while David Mitchell and Lee Mack are the team captains.

Britain's Secret Homes

ITV, 9pm

Michael Buerk and Bettany Hughes present another edition of the posh homes countdown show featuring 'cutting-edge CGI' (the law for most documentaries these days), while there is also archive footage and dramatic reconstruction. In episode three, Gethin Jones visits a B&B called Bodiwan in North Wales; Homeland actor David Harewood visits Picton House, built by a man who came to Britain as a slave, but ended up as one of the country's richest men, and Rory McGrath visits St. Levan's cell, a ruined structure on the coast of Cornwall. Plus, Lucinda Lambton learns more about Renishaw Hall near Sheffield, and Ann Widdecombe visits a unique 18th-century abode in Devon.

The property is in a cul-de-sac in St Johns Close and within easy reach of the M6 Toll, M6, A5, A38 and M43, as well as being convenient for local amenities.

On the ground floor is a guest WC with toilet and wash hand basin while the fitted kitchen, 11ft 7in by 5ft 10in, has an inset stainless steel sink and drainer, built-in oven and hob with extractor over, space and plumbing for automatic washing machine, space for fridge/freezer and space and plumbing for dishwasher, as well as a lounge/dining room measuring 18ft by 12ft 9in and with patio doors to the rear garden.

On the first floor are two bedrooms and a family bathroom with white suite comprising panelled bath, pedestal wash and WC, and on the second floor a master bedroom with dressing area and en suite of shower cubicle, pedestal wash hand basin and WC.

Grade II listed home is available for £729,950

A GRADE II listed "gentlemen's residence" with an outdoor heated swimming pool in a picturesque part of Lower Penn is on the market based on offers around £729,950.

Whitecross House in Orton Lane is believed to have been built in the first half of the 18th century and has been owned by the current vendors for some 10 years during which time substantial improvements have been carried out.

The accommodation at the principal residence is further enhanced by a series of outbuildings which provide officing, entertainment barn, garaging and stores.

On the ground floor the entrance hall has access to the cellar and doors to a panelled drawing room with Victorian fireplace, with a sitting room having a large brick inglenook fireplace. An inner hall gives access to a cloaks/shower room, with a dining room having French doors to a rear courtyard and the breakfast kitchen is fitted with a range of bespoke cream painted wall and base units with granite work surfaces, ceramic sink,space for range cooker and door to laundry with plumbing for washing machine and also door to a bakehouse with cast iron bread oven.

Berriman Eaton is handling the sale of this 18th century Lower Penn home

Outside the property stands behind a walled front garden with to the side a driveway to two garages with wooden gates to a large rear courtyard with shaped rear lawn and well stocked beds, as well as a small rear paved terrace and inner courtyard.

Spanish specialist has aim to be number one

A new company which specialises in Spanish property officially opens to the public in Staffordshire on Saturday.

The open day at Uno Property – which offers the largest selection of properties on the Spanish Costas – is being staged between 10am and 2pm at number 48 Market Street, Hednesford.

Behind the new company is Linda Whitehouse, director of Uno Property, who has been involved in the Spanish property market for over 15 years and is an expert in the field.

Investment

For the past 18 months Linda and her team have worked long and hard, with extreme due diligence, to carry out market research on how things are developing in the Spanish property market with the intention of ensuring clients get only the best return on their investment.

"We have partnered with one of the leading Spanish property groups which was formed as a promoter and construction company based in Costa Blanca who only work with the leading developers in Spain with a proven track record and known for quality – so giving our clients an even better return on their investments," said Linda.

Uno Property can help make your dream home in Spain a reality. Visit 48 Market Street, Hednesford, on Saturday

The aim of Uno Property – your property partners – is to offer the best support to clients who purchase a property in one of its resorts, offering a dynamic approach towards all its processes and plans with the aim of quickly responding to clients' demands.

"The key is location, location – and that is also vitally important to us. Be it either golf, town, beach or inland, we are sure that you'll fall in love with our properties in Spain.

Stock

"We will assist you every step of the way to purchase your property in Spain, whether it's a new-build home, resale property or property from bank stock. And we also offer our clients a plot and build service.

"We open our new office showroom on Saturday, so please come along and join us, or just register your enquiry," she added.

Linda has lived in Spain and has worked in the Spanish property market for more than 15 years, with a proven track record of helping clients to make what is likely to be the largest single investment they are ever going to make and successfully handling many hundreds, if not thousands, of properties.

"It has never been a better time to buy in Spain and benefit from reduced housing prices – you are getting a lot more for your money when you buy new off plan.

"We offer a service which is second to none, so why not take advantage and call today to arrange a free, no obligation consultation.

"If required we will even escort our clients on a personal three or four day viewing tour, which we promise will be information and enjoyable, enabling you to make the right decision," she added.

The Bentley Flying Spur is powered by a twin-turbocharged 6.0-litre engine producing 616bhp

CHINA probably isn't the first place that would spring to mind when choosing a suitable location for the launch of a new, and very important, car.

Out in the sticks, asphalt roads turn to gravel for no apparent reason, while in cities such as Beijing, congestion is something that happens all the time. And the driving style can best be described as freeform chaos.

But this is the new Bentley Flying Spur, a car which will be appearing on wish lists all over the world but particularly in the Far East. China's new breed of successful people find Bentley's restrained status and luxury are the perfect fit, hence the first examples have hit the streets of Beijing.

Rather than a radical change, the new Flying Spur wisely follows the template set by the original. It's an imposing four-door machine but with more curvature around the hips and greater separation from the Continental GT coupe.

The nose has full-width grilles and at the rear there's a squared-off tail and a smoother flow of the boot lid. The more radical customer might prefer lighter shades but the sensible soul will choose a more sober metallic for the proper Bentley look.

As well as claiming a reduction in noise by 40 per cent over the old car, heated, ventilated and electrically adjustable seats for all offer an even better back-seat experience.

Bentley has introduced a touchscreen remote that sits by your knees and which glides elegantly forward at the touch of a button so it can be handheld. About the size of a modest mobile phone, you can control the satnav, audio system, rear climate control, sun blinds and even view the speedometer and trip computer. The fundamentals, of course, are already well in place.

The body structure uses aluminium for the bonnet and front wings, a composite rear bootlid and high-strength steels for a better combination of safety and reduced weight.

Overall, the body is four per cent stiffer than before while the whole car is 50kg lighter. Motive power comes from the superb twin-turbocharged 6.0-litre W12 already seen in the Continental GT, and here it produces a more than adequate 616bhp.

The 0-62mph time is despatched in 4.6 seconds; 0-100mph in less than 10, and the top speed of 200mph surely is enough for anyone. The Flying Spur doesn't always feel this fast though; driven in full-on chauffeur mode, it will sail along as well as any super-luxury car.

Marginal

A new specification tyre and softer suspension over the old car improve what was already a good ride but separates it further from the more sporty Continental GT.

Those wanting the bigger wheel options will pay a very marginal price in terms of slightly less bump absorption, but unless you make a habit of swerving between pot holes, the Flying Spur delivers superb comfort.

Of course, that powerhouse under the bonnet offers such prodigious torque that you barely need more than a tiny prod of the accelerator to keep up with the traffic. The auto gearbox works best when left to its own devices despite.

The Flying Spur is inevitably a little more comfort-biased but it is no less capable when pushed through a series of bends. The brakes are immensely strong, the steering is reassuringly accurate – in other words, it has the ability to hustle along way beyond the demands of 99 per cent of owners.

That sums up the new Flying Spur rather well. The improvements over the old car are in all the key areas, yet there's more performance, comfort and specification when there was already plenty. It's hard to see a way in which the Flying Spur could do anything other than deliver a very satisfying experience.

The new Volkswagen Passat R-line which has been given a new look with a unique body-styling kit

The model has also had a change of engine. A turbocharged and supercharged 1.4-litre TSI petrol unit with 158bhp has been introduced to replace a 1.8-litre unit that produced the same power.

Rear tailgate and boot lid spoilers adorn the saloon and estate variants respectively, while the whole package rides on standard 18-inch wheels and wide, low-profile 235/40 tyres. Bi-xenon headlights, chrome bumper trim and dark-tinted rear windows help the R-line to stand out from more run-of-the-mill Passats.

Modifications

Inside, the standard equipment is based on that of the Passat S and includes Bluetooth, USB and iPod connectivity, DAB digital radio and a leather-trimmed multifunction steering wheel.

As well as the new 1.4-litre TSI, the R-Line is available with a 1.6-litre 103bhp TDI diesel engine with six-speed manual gearbox and a 2.0-litre 138bhp TDI diesel engine with a choice of six-speed manual or DSG gearboxes.The 1.4 gets either a six-speed manual or a seven-speed DSG auto, and all DSG-equipped models also get shift paddles behind the steering wheel.

For those searching for more equipment in a stylish package, the R-line body styling kit is available as a £900 option on Highline and Sport models.

TOYOTA and Lexus have bookended a list of the top 10 most valuable automotive brands.

In the eighth BrandZ report since its 2006 pilot, Toyota has been named the most expensive for the sixth time with a value of 24.5 billion US dollars (£16.2 million).

Lexus maintains the 10th place it posted last year with a value of 3.5 billion US dollars (£2.3 billion).

The firm states: "According to the report, although automotive sales improved in some regions, they remained below pre-recession levels in others, adversely impacting overall brand values.

"In contrast, global sales for Toyota in 2012 increased by 22.6 per cent, to 9.75 million units, which positively contributed towards the company's brand valuation in this year's report."

UK customers can choose from the widest range of hybrid vehicles of any manufacturer, including: Yaris Hybrid, Auris Hybrid, Auris Hybrid Touring Sports, Prius, Prius+, Prius Plug-in Hybrid, and Lexus CT 200h, IS 300h, GS 450h, RX 450h, LS 600h.

The Megane Renaultsport Red Bull Racing RB8

RENAULT has announced a new limited edition dubbed the Megane Renaultsport Red Bull Racing RB8, designed to tie in the French manufacturer's hot hatch with the Renault-powered F1 World Champions.

Platinum Grey details include the F1 blade, door handles, door mirror housing and rear lip. The Megane Renaultsport Red Bull Racing RB8 comes with the same Bridgestone tyres that helped Megane Renaultsport 265 Trophy to establish a new lap record for the Nurburgring. These high-performance tyres are fitted to 19in black 'Steev' wheels with platinum rims.

The system's six functions (navigation, telephony, multimedia, vehicle, systems and R-Link Store applications catalogue) are controlled using either the touchscreen display, the voice-command function or the joystick situated on the centre console. Along with R-Link, there is now also the 2.0 version of Renaultsport Monitor, which fans of sporty driving will particularly appreciate.

The limited edition version packs the same features as Megane Renaultsport 265 Cup, including stiffer springs, dampers, anti-roll bar, limited slip differential, grooved discs with Brembo callipers and the potent two-litre turbocharged 265hp engine.

The limited edition Megane Renaultsport Red Bull Racing RB8 will be available until September 30, 2013.

The BMW Z4 – the makers have made it look good with the roof open or closed

Luxury leather upholstery adds £1,055 to the bill

The sporty low-slung feel to the car offers the ultimate in two person transport

BMW keep tin top for sporty Z4

IT took a glass or two of fine red over dinner to loosen the tongue of a very senior car company salesperson, who declared with venom "We'll never make another of those."

By Ian Donaldson

He was talking about the convertible version of his company's big selling hatch, using a clever but complicated steel folding roof to morph the car from closed to open.

Far too much trouble, with motors stopping with the roof half up (or down) and too many leaks onto customers' expensive dresses when it rained. Never again!

None of which is meant to apply to any of the following words. They concern the latest version of a sporty BMW with a magic metal roof; the villain in the car park was not a BMW and you can't buy one new any longer.

Other car makers seem to be losing their love affair with metal folding tops and reverting to canvas, on the grounds of cost, reliability and style. It's hard to make a tin top look good when so much room has to be made to hold the roof when it's down.

Dumpy bottoms seem almost unavoidable, and a long way from the sporty svelteness you can bet the designer had in mind. They play havoc with boot space when they're folded, too.

So well done BMW for making the Z4 look good, open or closed. It remains a complicated way to let the sun in, though, and the boot is tiny with the roof folded away.

BMW has had to devise a special opening feature to maximise the boot opening aperture when the roof is down, involving a balletic sequence of whirring panels. Clever but slow and pointing up the compromise needed for the feeling of security a metal top provides.

But enough of the practicalities; the Z4 has just undergone the gentlest of mid-life makeovers, with white eyebrows over the headlights and chrome flicks on the side gills that give the car some of its sportiness in profile.

And, yes, hardly anyone will notice. Bigger news if you're looking for a new Z4 is the choice of a less powerful engine that cuts £2,100 off the price and makes it the least expensive of BMW's roadsters.

The £27,610 Z4 sDrive18i uses a detuned version of the same 2.0 litre engine you'll find in the more expensive sDrive20i, with 30 fewer horses. I know the 18i ought to be a 1.8 litre engine but BMW long ago stopped playing the logical badge game.

Tempted

You can pay up to £45,795 for a Z4 but a solid 80 per cent of buyers have opted for the 20i and it will be interesting to see how many are now tempted to save a little cash at ordering time.

If they tick the box for leather upholstery they'll find the bill increasing by £1,055, which neatly halves the price advantage over the dearer, more powerful 20i, which has cowhide as standard. Standard kit includes a DAB radio and xenon headlights.

On the road you'll discover a car with mildly over-sensitive steering, a slightly notchy gearbox (and cramped space around the pedals) but with a properly sporty low slung feel and a severe but beautifully built approach to two-person indulgent transport.

Bevan's expanded fleet of 20 mobile workshops will provide repair cover nationwide

Halesowen-based commercial vehicle bodybuilder Bevan Group has made two key changes to its management team and invested in a new, extended fleet of mobile workshops to serve its growing portfolio of aftercare customers.

From a fleet of just six, the company will be operating 20 of the distinctive workshop vans by the end of this month, under the director of Bevan's aftercare manager Simon Dryburgh.

He has just been promoted to take over from Roy Shelton, who has become the company's first business development manager.

As well as Bevan's range of dry freight box, curtainside and platform bodies, Roy is focused on selling temperature-controlled bodywork for rigid trucks following the company's announcement in January that it had entered a strategic partnership with specialist manufacturer Schmitz Cargobull.

He is managing several key accounts but is also charged with winning business from operators that have not previously used Bevan's services.

Apprentice

Simon, meanwhile, has taken up his new position at Bevan's headquarters in Amber Way, having spent nearly 10 years working as general manager for one of its main competitors.

He began his career 25 years ago as a technical apprentice with Metro Cammell, working on trains, and his CV also includes a 13-year stint with another well-known commercial vehicle bodybuilder.

Alongside its manufacturing operations Bevan has forged a reputation for top-quality repair and maintenance services, operating a team of mobile technicians offering cover across Britain. As well as maintaining and repairing truck and van bodies of all makes and types, they look after tail-lifts, cranes, shutter doors and other ancillary equipment fitted to customers' vehicles.

Bevan's new Nissan NV400 service vans – their striking liveries designed and applied by the company's own graphics division – are racked out to carry the tools and equipment its technicians need to work on vehicles at customers' own locations.

"By the end of July we'll have 20 new vans on the road," says Simon.

"That's six more than we were running previously, and reflects rapidly growing demand for our aftercare services.

Undisputed

"I'm determined to build on the strong foundations already in place to further improve our response times and parts availability, and develop the 'cradle to grave' support packages that will make us the industry's undisputed number one for aftercare."

"Although my background is in engineering, my previous role with Bevan included an element of aftercare sales," said Roy.

He has been with the company since 2010 and added: "We're getting a lot of enquiries for our refrigerated bodywork and it's the opportunity to build this new arm of our business that I find really exciting."

LARVIN
Joseph John

God built a stairway to Heaven, the gates He opened wide, then He softly whispered Joe, come inside. Your golden heart stopped beating, hard working hands now rest, God really proved to me He really takes the best.

Rest in peace sweetheart.

Will love you forever.

Your brokenhearted Wife Pauline.

LARVIN
Joseph John

You never said I'm leaving, you never said goodbye, you were gone before I knew it and only God knew why.

In life I loved you dearly, in death I love you still, in my heart you hold a place that no one could ever fill.

It broke my heart to lose you but you didn't go alone, for part of me went with you the day God called you home.

Things will never be the same and although it hurts so bad, I will smile whenever I hear your name and be proud you were my Dad.

LARVIN
Joseph John

Those we love remain with us, for love itself lives on, cherished memories never fade because my Grandad's gone. Those we love can never be more than a thought apart, for as long as I have memories you will live on in my heart.

Love now and always,

Grandson Jason.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.

star extra TRAVEL

LONDON THEATRE

Coach inclusive breaks – Two days

Saturday Night from £129.95

Dine and Dance from £139.95

Take in a top West End show and have some free time in London for shopping and sightseeing. For the Dine and Dance option see the matinee performance before heading back to the hotel for dinner and disco (conditions apply). For the Saturday Night option you will see the evening performance. For both breaks the price includes a theatre ticket, overnight stay in a four-star outer London hotel, with full English breakfast (plus dinner for Dine and Dance options). Pick ups offered are Dudley, Shrewsbury, Telford, Walsall and Wolverhampton.

Saturday Night Theatre from £139.95

Catch the Theatre Express and enjoy a super two-day weekend break in the capital. There's a choice of London hotels and your ticket is for a Saturday evening performance. Rail travel is standard class with the option to upgrade. Departs Saturday morning/early afternoon from Birmingham New Street, Shrewsbury, Stafford or Wolverhampton, returning on the Sunday afternoon/early evening to give plenty of free time for shopping and sightseeing.

Theatre Weekend from £189.95

These popular theatre packages to the West End depart from Birmingham New Street, Shrewsbury, Stafford or Wolverhampton on the Friday morning returning on the Sunday afternoon/early evening. Standard class travel is included with the option to upgrade. Two nights stay at a three or four-star London hotel of your choice (hotel supplements may apply) and a top priced ticket for a Friday evening performance for the Theatre Showstopper package or choose your price band for the Saturday evening performance with the Theatre Weekend package.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 (AS AMENDED)
ROAD TRAFFIC (TEMPORARY RESTRICTIONS) ACT 1991

B4156 STATION STREET, CHESLYN HAY
DIVERSION OF VEHICULAR TRAFFIC AND TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF ON-STREET PARKING

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council intend, not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an Order the effect of which will be to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in that length of B4156 Station Street, Cheslyn Hay between its junctions with Littlewood Lane and Westbourne Avenue unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the works. Access to off-street frontages will be limited dependent upon the progress of the works but through access will not be permitted. Pedestrian access will be maintained.

The preferred alternative route for traffic will be available via B4156 Station Street, B4156 High Street, Landywood Lane, Hilton Lane, A34 Walsall Road, B4156 Station Road and vice versa.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 01 JULY 2013 AT 09:00, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS WILL BE COMPLETED BY 03 JULY 2013 AT 17:00.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the carriageway resurfacing works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the road, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

GERMANY HAS THE ANSWER TO YOUR HEATING PROBLEMS

Advertisement Feature

In Germany, Austria, Poland, Russia, Eastern Europe and even America more and more people are choosing to heat their homes and offices with a very special form of electric heating in preference to gas, oil, LPG or any other form of conventional central heating or Economy 7.

Here in the UK, more and more of our customers are making the same decision! When you see this incredible heating for yourself, you could be next! All you need is standard electricity supply and NO special tariff like Economy 7. The heating looks just like a conventional radiator, but STOP! It is very, very different! Why? Put simply, central heating isn't the only choice anymore! Now you can choose to heat your homes, offices, extensions, conservatories with this incredible German heating which provides individual control over every single room without the need for a central control or space to site a boiler. Now the boiler space can become a valuable storage area! Installation takes minutes and running is completely clean, no danger of leakage, no holes through walls, no floorboards up and no tradesmen trundling around the house wielding pipe cutters, spanners, hammers, wrenches and work boots. This incredible German heating simply plugs in and that's it. Job Done! You can even do just one room or the whole house! Get your free info pack right away by calling 01889 576732.

This heating is NEW in the UK, yet in Germany, Austria, Poland, Russia and even America it has been a mainstream form of heating for a very long time.

Discover for yourself this incredible German heating, get your FREE info pack right away by calling Simple Heating Solutions on Rugeley 01889 576732, ask for Martin.

STEVE BULL has declared Wolves' new head coach Kenny Jackett is the man to end the club's losing mentality and fill his side with League One winners.

One such player is 26-year-old defender Dan Seaborne, who has been released by Southampton after helping Bournemouth win promotion to the Championship last season while on loan at the Cherries. As well as Wolves, Mick McCarthy's Ipswich have also been linked with him.

Bull, Wolves' 306-goal club record top scorer, has been quietly impressed with the soundbites from Jackett.

The 48-year-old Molineux legend believes the former Millwall and Swansea boss will attract players who have been successful at that level.

"We don't just need young and hungry players but we need a winning mentality and Kenny will achieve that by bringing in players who have been there and done it at that level," claimed Bull.

"We need to be back in the Championship and 95 per cent of fans will be expecting us to go straight back up."

Team looks to recruit new players

A CANNOCK football team is looking to recruit more players

The Scholars in their first season at 11-a-side were formed out of the U-10 Chasetown Colts & Chasetown Scholars merging and have had a very successful first season.

They scored more than 210 goals, of which 104 were in the league. Needing one point from the final game of the season to secure the league title, they beat a well disciplined Beacon Star 5-0 with the captain Tom Whillock opening the scoring for the Scholars.

The award-winning coaching staff are looking for new players to strengthen the three teams from this age group for next season and the Senior Charter Standard club are also recruiting for players of all age groups for the start of next season.

Mark Hewitt and Ade Radley, centre, with a few players

RUGELEY Rugby Club have a new first team shirt sponsorship deal with Rugeley-based commercial window cleaners Elite Services.

Rugeley had a good season last year but fell just short of promotion and lost in the Rubery Owen Plate Final to local rivals St Leonards. They are hoping that the new shirts will inspire them to greater success next term.

Chairman Carl Johnson, who is delighted by the deal, said: "I know the lads can't wait to try on the new shirts. "The shirts follow the modern style of being tight fitting which gives props like me an incentive to work hard in pre-season training so I look my best next season. I am really grateful to Elite Services for their support and hope we can reward it with success on the pitch."

Elite Services is a partnership run by Mark Hewitt and Ade Radley and was established in 2000. Its owners each have 20 years' experience in the industry.

Mark Hewitt said: "It is great to be able to associate ourselves with such a great local sporting team such as Rugeley Rugby Club. I think it is important for businesses to support groups who make a contribution in their local community and I am impressed with how Rugeley operates both on and off the field of play. I look forward to seeing our logo on the shirts of a successful team in the forthcoming seasons."

Rugeley Rugby Club was first established in 1947 and will shortly be entering its 66th year as a rugby club. The green and white hoop design dates back to the original players who wore the shirts in the 1940s.

Carl Johnson added: "We made the decision to move to our original green and white colours a few seasons ago and I think the colours make our team stand out more than our previous colours."

Mixed marvels make it a trophy hat-trick

Hockey

CANNOCK Mixed Hockey Team were crowned national champions for the third time in the National Trophy finals, at Beeston, over the weekend.

They made it through to the finals of the EH Mixed Trophy by beating favourites, Phoenix, in the semi-finals on Saturday.

Cannock went ahead by two goals early in the game but Phoenix applied the pressure and brought the score back to 2-2. By half-time the score was level at 3-3.

The team then scored what they thought was the winner with five minutes to go, but a penalty was awarded against them with one second left on the clock.

Deflection

This meant the Cannock players were upbeat going into Sunday's final against last year's runners-up, West Herts.

Cannock conceded an early goal and then were undone a second time to go two down within 15 minutes. A Lisa Heeley goal reduced the deficit before half-time but Cannock had a job to do in the second-half.

As Herts became tired, Cannock took their opportunity with two more goals apiece from Bandurak and Harris to complete their hat-tricks. With Cannock leading 7-3 with five minutes left, Herts doggedly continued to look for goals but a solid defence and brave individual efforts by players meant that captain Andy Hodgetts was able to collect the trophy.

Rugeley CC 1st XI 163-3
Highcroft & Great Barr 159
Rugeley won by 7 wickets

RUGELEY continued their fine run of form with a comprehensive victory at home against Highcroft.

Rugeley put the visitors in to bat and were rewarded early on. Ross Matthews (3-24) dismissed both openers cheaply; Matthew Jenkinson supported well.

Talbot dismissed Raza Ali, leaving the away team struggling on 62-6, but a superb stand between Sajad (40) and Lambeth (42) saw Highcroft reach the 34-over break on 140-6.

James Waddell (50) came in at 44-2 and alongside Brazier played a fantastic innings to leave the result beyond any doubt. He fell with Rugeley needing only 20 runs. Tom Dutton saw the game through to the end and a superb Rugeley win.

Diamonds Power into top place

LICHFIELD Diamonds Girls U-13 football side became Power League five-a-side champions at the Weekend.

The event was held at Power Leagues Centre, Nottingham, where the 3G fully enclosed pitches posed an interesting challenge to the girls.

With teams attending from Lincolnshire, Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire and , Staffordshire, Diamonds came through their six games unbeaten to take the U-13 title.

Diamonds have several more tournaments lined up throughout the summer and are building their squads for next season at all girls age groups from under-eights through to U-16 and ladies.

Anyone who is interested in joining Diamonds can contact the club on 01543 254069.

A CANNOCK junior football club are claiming a double success. The club have picked up a top award for its efforts at grassroots level – and one of their sides will play at the FA's Staffordshire headquarters this weekend.

Heath Hayes Juniors are a feeder club to the Midland Alliance League side and operate teams from under-six to under-21 levels. They were named FA Charter Standard Club of the Year at the Staffordshire County FA's Community Awards. They were chosen ahead of 134 other Charter Standard clubs under the Staffordshire FA umbrella.

The club's under-15s have accepted an invitation to play at the national football centre at St George's Park, in Burton. They will take on Wolverhampton Casuals at 1.30pm on Saturday (June 15).

At the FA Community awards, Wyrley Juniors were also honoured, winning the Charter Standard Community Club. There were eight recipients in all, chosen by a County FA panel following a seven-week public nomination period.

Cannock 1st XI 154
Bridgnorth 1st XI 156-5

ALTHOUGH this was a much improved batting performance by some of Cannock's batsmen against a strong Bridgnorth team, it still resulted in a five-wicket loss.

Carl Whyte (36) showed early promise before being stumped off the fine spin bowling of Whitney, although Andy Hawkins (58) was the only batsman to show application and good shot selection enabling the home team to reach 154 all out.

Bridgnorth reached 43-3 and Cannock had a chance of winning but the excellent James Ralph (87 not out) took the game away from Cannock. Earlier Ralph (4-31) had tied the Cannock batsmen in knots to achieve a man-of-the-match performance.

Rugby

RUGELEY Rugby Club's fourth annual Sevens competition took place this week with 12 teams and over 200 players taking part.

The eventual winners, Barton Under Needwood, defeated Burntwood in the final to take the trophy away from Cannock for the first time in two years.

It was the players of Birmingham City College who took the crowd's attention early on, topping their group with some impressive ball skills and hard running. Barton breezed through their group whereas Rugeley, Burntwood and Trentham defeated each other in the 'group of death' with all three teams finishing on identical points.

The shock of the day came in the first semi-final of the cup when Burntwood kept it tight against Birmingham College until the last two minutes before defeating the students with an attacking scrum and good support play.

This set up a final against Barton Under Needwood who had put Cannock to the sword. Burntwood looked as if they had left their best game in the semi-final and Barton ran out comfortable winners.

Rugeley's A team went on to win the plate competition with narrow victories against Telford Stingers and Trentham along the way. Eccleshall defeated Cannock B in the final of the Beer Cup.

Solicitor Adam Penn was on hand from event sponsors Ansons LLP to hand over the trophies to the winning captains.

Adam said: "It is great for Ansons to be involved in what has become a major event in the county sporting calendar".

Carl Johnson, Chairman of Rugeley, added: "It was definitely our best event yet both in attendance of players and spectators and with the quality of rugby."

Barton skipper Daniel Carlin said: "It was a great day. Thanks to everyone involved on behalf of Barton under Needwood rugby Club."

The Rugeley Sevens is the first event in the Staffordshire Rugby Sevens Series. The second event takes place at Trentham on June 22.

Thirds slip to their first defeat of season

Cannock Thirds 139 all out
Brewood Thirds 167 for 9
Brewood won by 28 runs

CANNOCK visited Brewood and after winning the toss and electing to field slipped to their first defeat of the season.

Tight bowling early on kept the scoring in check but a succession of good partnerships, punctuated with some good shots and excellent running between the wickets, prevented Cannock from gaining the upper hand.

With wickets in hand Brewood accelerated towards the end of their innings to close on 167- 9 from their 50 overs, three batsmen joint top scoring with 26 whilst Alex Beamon was the pick of the bowlers taking 2-18.

Alex Beamon followed up his good bowling with a well-made 48 to give Cannock hope but with 28 needed and two wickets remaining first Ant Wood(13) then Beamon fell to give Brewood victory.

Cannock seconds 149-9
Brewood seconds 213-5
Winning draw Brewood

Batting first Brewood made 213-5 with Lucas Evans scoring 107, Phil Heighway taking 2-37 and Matt Robinson 3-63. In reply Cannock lost the wickets of Mike Stevenson for 18 and Scott Sieradzki for 17 but reached drinks with just two wickets down.

Soon after the restart Dan Wood fell for 36 and Connor Shingler 26 but no other batsman made double figures except for Uchi Obodike (11no) who along with Phil Heighway (2no) managed to hold on until the close to earn Cannock a losing draw.

The 62-year-old former Ireland international, who made more than 300 appearances in goal for the Saddlers, is stepping down from both roles after four decades of service to the club. Kearns has been in charge of the club's community project since 1989.

Kearns said: "The time is right for me to announce my retirement. It's almost 40 years to the day since I first set foot into the club.

"During that time Walsall FC has become a very big part of my life; the club will always remain close to my heart. You make big decisions in your life and I regard the one to come here as one of the best I have ever made.

Deputy Adam Davy will take over the role of community director, though Kearns will still maintain a presence at the club after agreeing to become a matchday host and club ambassador. Former Villa and Albion keeper Neil Cutler is expected to be named the club's new keeping coach.

Mick Kearns – retiring

Apart from a spell at Wolves, Kearns has been an integral part of the Saddlers since arriving from Oxford United in 1973 and having made 18 appearances for Ireland, he is the club's most capped player.

Saddlers chairman Jeff Bonser said: "Family clubs like Walsall need people like Mick Kearns.

"With his passion, experience and history, as well as being known and well-respected by fans of all ages, it is important that he maintains some involvement with the club following his retirement."

THANKS to a new sponsor, a Cannock football team will be starting next season in fresh kits.

The team play in the Lichfield and District Recreational League. As U7s and U8s they have so far played non-competitive games and next season will be their first competitive season.

The team, whose home ground is at Littleton Green Community School, Colliers Way, Huntington is managed by Wayne Dilks and train every Thursday at the Liam Keeling arena, Cannock.

CMC Motorcycles Cannock has agreed to sponsor the team for the next two years. The firm has become friends of the club, displaying the home shirt in their store at Brindley Business Park, Cannock. General manager, Jason Devey said: "CMC is looking forward to seeing the team through the next two seasons. We hope to help them continue with their football for many years to come."

Anniversary kit

WALSALL have unveiled the playing kits for their 125th anniversary season along with two new advertising deals.

Designed following consultations with fans, the kits are aimed at honouring memorable periods from the Saddlers' past.

Jackett hints at summer moves

KENNY JACKETT has hinted he is confident Wolves will move on their star players this summer.

The Molineux head coach also indicated the success in selling their high earners will be key to new signings.

This week Wolves were inviting offers of more than £4m for Player of the Year Bakary Sako.

Sako is Wolves' most expensive asset and there is interest from Fulham and an un-named Premier League club as well as a Champions' League qualifier from abroad.

Roger Johnson, Jamie O'Hara and Kevin Doyle are three more high earners the club are looking to move on.

"Will people come in for our players over the next few months? Yes, perhaps they will," said Jackett.

But he warned the numbers of incoming players will be determined directly by those leaving.

"And I think with the types of finances involved with some of the guys, we're going to have to wait and see who wants in and who wants out and what type of calls we get for our players."

Tamworth 1st XI 142-9
Cannock 1st XI 143-2
Chauntry Cup Semi-Final

FOR the second week running Cannock bounced back from a league defeat to win a T20 game.

Tamworth posted a challenging total of 143 to win thanks to Jacob Flower (38) and Joe McNulty (46). Tegan Naidoo (2-24), Richie Hewitt (2-29) and Elliott Horton (3-22) were the most successful bowlers aided by two excellent catches by Will Fleet and superb wicket-keeping by James Caswell.

In reply Cannock reached 59 for the first wicket in just nine overs thanks to Hewitt (26) and Naidoo. Will Fleet (26) and Andy Le Feaver (22 not out) batted with Naidoo (62 no) to reach the required total in the 19th over.

Comeback to win cup crowns a fine season

Football

RUGELEY Rangers Girls U-16s capped a successful season by winning the Staffordshire County Girls League U-16s League Cup.

Previously they finished third in the Staffordshire County Girls League and runners-up in the County Cup Final.

Rugeley beat Red Street Kestrels 2-1 in an action-packed final played at Great Wyrley FC.

After the euphoria of a semi-final win against Stoke, the challenge was laid down to see if the girls could go the extra yard and win the second final Rugeley have reached in the season. The opening exchanges were a fairly even affair with both sides probing for the opening goal. It was Rangers who went the closest, hitting the bar with a Holly Meehan header from a corner.

As the half wore on, Red Street started to gain the upper hand and were unlucky not to score on a couple of occasions. However, they finally found the net when Alex Smith, unsighted by the low sun, could only palm a shot from a forward straight into the path of an oncoming Kestrels player.

Half-time could not come soon enough for the blues as the team were forced to regroup. What happened next will certainly live long in the memories of the Rugeley support, the management and the team as Holly Meehan scored a 25-yarder within minutes of the restart.

PITMEN BOSS SMITH IN SIGNINGS DELIGHT

TWO key Hednesford Town players have signed up for next season's Conference North campaign – to the delight of boss Rob Smith.

Securing Harvey, who scored in the play-off final and was the subject of interest from an Evo-Stik Northern Premier club, particularly pleased Smith.

Hednesford

He also declared his conviction that both star performers Elliott Durrell and Jamey Osborne would also be playing their football at Keys Park come August.

"We have no intention of selling our better players and I'm delighted Neil has committed to us," said Smith.

"Jamey is under contract so there is no issue there, he will be playing for Hednesford next season.

Confident

"He is on holiday but has expressed his desire to stay, so I am more than confident that he will sign a new deal upon his return."

On the signing of Taylor, a roaring success following a mid-season loan from Telford last season, the manager was delighted to capture a player expected to make another big impression as the Pitmen look to consolidate at Conference North level.

"Signing Kris was very high on my priority list," added Smith.

"He is a player in my opinion still playing well below his level, a player I have always admired – and more importantly, a player who I was desperate to sign.

The striker, whose skills have made him a very popular player at Keys Park, is the latest of the squad from last season to commit themselves to the club for the new campaign.

Smith added: "I'm delighted that Neil has committed to Hednesford again for this season.

"I am sure he will have another excellent season in what will be a very strong league."

Champion! Team beats the title favourites

IT'S celebration time for Cannock Mixed Hockey Team who are the National Mixed Champions for the third time in their history. Cannock made it through to the finals of the EH Mixed Trophy by beating favourites, Phoenix, in a hard fought game in the semi-finals.

Boost as clubs to team up

HAWKINS Sports and Cannock and Rugeley are set to join forces as a new club next season.

Cheslyn Hay-based Hawkins, who are 20 points clear after eight games, fear their ground will not achieve Birmingham League status if they are promoted.

And basement side C&R, who lost nine first-teamers before the season started and are currently 20 points adrift, are struggling to attract senior players.

They have already had to forego two games at third XI level this season because they haven't been able to field a team.

The tournament win means the girls have entered three tournaments and won them all since they were put together in May 2012.
